Lions Club Gives $1000 For New Blind Program

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS LIONS CLUB Tuesday contributed $1,000 to Arlington high school district, the sum to be used for purchase of equipment for an educational program for blind students set up at the school this year. Shown presenting a check to H. L. Slichenmyer, school superintendent (right), are E. B. Stine, co-chairman of the club sight conservation committee (left), and W. O. Tinsley, Lions president (center).

Arlington Heights Lions club Tuesday night presented a check for $1,000 to Arlington Heights high school district 214 for its program of special work with blind students.

PRESENTATION was made by F. C. Blohm, 114 S. Fairview, and E. B. Stine, 11 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, co-chairman of the Lions sight conservation, health and welfare committee.

The Lions club also helps support a braille classroom at Wheeling school.

THROUGH THIS new program, blind students will attend regular high school classes along with sighted students. In addition, blind students will have individual help daily through appointments with the supervising teachers.

The $1000 donation from Lions will help to buy necessary equipment to introduce the program. A resource room will be furnished, equipped with braille writers, phonographs for talking books, maps in relief, peg boards for pupils taking geometry, and other special aids for the blind. The resource room will house several shelves of books in braille.

WORKING WITH blind students at the high school level will be Mrs. Halycon Peters, a member of the social science department at Arlington high school.

Lions President Waldo Tinsley, 24 S. Reuter, said the $1,000 was taken from the club's blind fund. A fund-raising activity later this fall will replenish it, he explained.

The Editor's Column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

We do not know what good fairy made possible the demolition of the unsightly residences south of the Arlington Heights village hall, except that Bill Cook, Arlington's new Buick dealer had a hand in the pie.

Our dreams of the use of the property for downtown parking purposes have gone out the window.

If it had become available for public parking, it would probably have led to the extension of the downtown business section to the west. It is next door to the new postoffice.

Our dependency upon public utilities was again shown this week when "emergency calls only" were accepted by the Illinois Bell Telephone company. Dial service patrons were not inconvenienced as much as patrons in communities where service is still handled by switchboard operators.

We know because we had a hard time convincing a Cary operator that it was important that we get in touch with the publication office.

It reminded us of the inconvenience of original telephone service in Palatine and Arlington Heights 60 years ago. Mt. Prospect's first telephone connection with the outside world was through a lone telephone in the Busse store.

Arlington and Palatine depended upon small switchboards with less than a dozen subscribers, installed in the Nehl's drug store at Arlington Heights and the Mosser drug store at Palatine. When the drug clerk did not have time to send a messenger for a person called, it meant a horse and buggy trip between the towns.

The telephone subscribers in those towns who become impatient with the interrupted service today should realize that if the company gives in to the workers, it may ask increased service rates to pay for the increased labor costs, which, in turn, increases the cost of living and aids inflation.

If the strikers win it will be the public who will pay the bill.

Attending the Frank Keenan day at Chevy Chase country club last Thursday, a northside politician told us that today there is not much difference between good Republicans and good Democrats. "They are both good fellows," he said.

The G. O. P. last November adopted Ben Adamowski and, according to the head of the Republican central committee, it is ready to welcome into its party Keenan, who was elected county assessor as a Democrat.

We do not know if it is a case of converting the enemy or raiding his stronghold.

From time to time we have criticized a village board for a "do nothing policy." The present Arlington Heights board is now being criticized for trying to do something—the modernizing of the business area.

We have not seen the petition reportedly signed by a majority of the property owners against the proposed new street lights.

For the future welfare of those businessmen and owners of business property, we hope the board of local improvements will stand pat on both the street widening and the lights.

The wide street and lighting at the Kensington shopping center, now under construction at the east entrance to the village, and the shopping centers at Westgate and Rolling Meadows at the west could bottle up the old Arlington Heights business section, unless it keeps pace with the new shopping areas that are growing up all around us.

The narrow streets of 1915 vintage and obsolete street lighting are not an incentive for patronage by the hundreds of newcomers in this area.

We can't imagine why sharp businessmen are not ready to take advantage of the heavy public benefit that the village has offered to assume.

Suburban Problems Clinic

Sheriff Lohman to Discuss Delinquency in Suburbs

Cook County Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman will serve as panel chairman for a discussion on juvenile delinquency, one of 3 major topics to be covered Saturday, Oct. 5 at a unique Suburban Problems Clinic sponsored by Paddock Publications.

Lohman, an outstanding authority in the fields of education, sociology, criminology, and labor management, achieved national recognition for his "Searchlights on Delinquency" program in Cook county.

STARTING AT 9:45 a. m., the clinic will also discuss school problems and zoning and planning. A recognized authority on Chicago's metropolitan growth and expansion will address a noon luncheon for clinic participants.

Invitations will be mailed this weekend to village officials and civic leaders in northwest suburbs. They will attend the day-long conference and luncheon as the guests of Paddock Publications, according to clinic co-chairmen Charles Hayes and Tom Brennan.

The juvenile delinquency panel will include, in addition to Sheriff Lohman: Dr. Eugene Oliver, administrator of Arlington high school; Tom Ullock, former Arlington Heights policeman and first police chief of Rolling Meadows; Miss Lucia Thomas, assistant state's attorney for Cook county; and Cy Campbell, chief of police, Rolling Meadows.

SHERIFF LOHMAN

LOHMAN, 47, is married and the father of one daughter. He received his B. A. from the University of Denver in 1930 and his M. A. at the University of Wisconsin in 1931. He was a graduate fellow at the University of Chicago in 1931 and 1932.

In 1932 and 1933, he was reasearch criminologist for the Behavior Research Fund and senior research sociologist for the state of Illinois' Institute of Juvenile Research from 1934 to 1939. During this time, he directed the initial juvenile delinquency prevention and treatment of the Chicago area projects.

Lohman was instructor and associate professor in sociology at the University of Chicago from 1939 to 1942 and has been on the faculty since 1947. He has also served as associate professor at University of Wisconsin and visiting professor at several other universities.

He has served actively in numerous labor conciliation capacities and held a number of important state and federal government posts.

FOUNDER AND member of the faculty of the Southern Police Institute in Louisville, Ky., Lohman is a director of the American Prison association, director and past president of the Illinois Academy of Criminology, and member of the National Sociological society, for which he serves as chairman of a special liaison committee to the American Bar Foundation on a survey of the administration of criminal justice in the United States.

From 1949 to 1952 he was chairman of the division of corrections for the state of Illinois and chairman from 1952 to 1953 of the parole and pardon board.

A WELL KNOWN writer and lecturer on crime, human relations, and community problems, Lohman has been a consultant to police departments in many leading U. S. cities. He created and conducted the Chicago television series, "Searchlights on Delinquency," currently being re-telecast nationally through the Education Television and Radio Center.

He was elected sheriff in 1954.

"We feel particularly honored," said Stuart R. Paddock, editor of Paddock Publications, "to have Sheriff Lohman lead our discussion of juvenile delinqency as it affects northwest suburbs. This is a problem which has been glossed over for too long. There has been a prevailing attitude that suburban 'fresh air' automatically dispels social problems in these communities, and that just isn't so. This panel should be enlightening to many."

Trustees Reject Consoer

Eleven partners of Consoer, Townsend and Associates will vote Friday morning on whether or not their firm will remain village engineers for Arlington Heights.

The vote follows a decision of the village board Tuesday to hire another firm for a comprehensive study of the village sewer system.

SINCE 1931, Consoer, Townsend and Associates has made all engineering surveys.

By a 4-2 vote, the trustees rejected hiring the Consoer firm and by the same majority favored another Chicago firm, Suhr and Peterson, Peterson and Suhr, for the study.

PRUNTY was the only trustee who switched his position in favor of the present village engineers since a similar vote was taken August 20.

Carl H. Bowen, one of 11 partners in the Consoer firm and an Arlington Heights resident, Wednesday said the question of staying on as village consulting engineers will come up at the weekly conference Friday morning.

Earlier, several partners indicated the village would have to find a new enginering firm unless it retained Consoer, Townsend and Associates for the study.

FIVE OFFERS to make the overall survey were received by the village. Consoer's price was $7,500, about $2,300 under the next lowest bid of $9,800 submitted by Suhr and Peterson.

In a statement released earlier this month, senior partner Arthur W. Consoer and Bowen indirectly criticized past village boards. The statement recalled a number of previous Consoer recommendations for improvement of "inadequate" village sewers and pointed out that boards had taken little action on the proposals.

Tuesday Hoover termed the statements "injudicious" and blamed the firm for delaying the sewer study.

Cost of the study, to be completed about February 1, will be met from water and sewer funds.

Petition Is All-Purpose Weapon for Civic Battles

If a neighbor wasn't home when you called on a recent evening, you might have passed by him on your way over.

Chances are he was out circulating a petition.

Petitions are the favorite and all-purpose weapon in Arlington Heights' civic tiffs.

THOUSANDS of names have been scrawled on large pieces of white paper this year as "evidence" of sentiment pro or con in zoning, sidewalk and street improvement battles.

The people who have carried the lists door to door have probably walked, altogether, several hundred miles.

AND IF THE petition did no good, at least the walking did.

The latest collection of signatures was given to the village board of local improvements Thursday night by P. K. Ladas, 11 E. Miner. He is leader of the property owners trying to defeat a proposal to install $215,000 worth of street lights in the downtown area.

Owners would pay half the cost—about $7 a front foot—and the village the remainder.

Ladas said his document contains names of all but 3 owners who would pay the assessment.

ON THE STRENGTH of the petition, he asked the board to drop the project entirely. The size of the project earlier was trimmed by one-third. (Hearing on the matter began in May.)

"Of all the people I have talked to, not 1 person has told me the lights are advisable for the betterment of the community," declared Ladas.

The only person in the assembly of 30 to differ with him was Robert E. Kozeliski, president of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

Kozeliski said he tried to get a group of businessmen at the meeting in the village hall to speak in favor of better lighting.

"I FOUND A few businessmen for it, a few against it and a few indifferent," asserted the chamber president. "I don't feel that as their head I have enough information to take a stand.

He added that "personally I feel the lighting would be a tremendous boost for Arlington Heights. It's something we're going to have to have—whether today, tomorrow or in 2 years."

Half a dozen merchants present said they were "definetly" against the project.

Juvenile Caught In Stolen Auto

A car stolen in Arlington Heights at 1:30 a.m. Sunday was restored to its owner 5 minutes later.

Turned over to juvenile authorities was a 15-year-old boy apprehended by police less than a mile away from the scene of the theft.

POLICE SGT. Oscar E. Johnson and Officer Floyd E. Cummings were cruising through the Arlington motel on Northwest hwy. when they spotted a car without lights on headed north on Dryden pl.

The officers stopped the auto at Prindle ave. and Foundry rd. and learned the car had been stolen from Gale H. Oberlin, 201 S. Dryden.

POLICE RECEIVED 2 "peeping Tom" reports within 5 minutes just an hour prior to the recovery of the stolen auto.

A man was reported to be walking down Wilke rd. in Westgate and "looking into windows" at 12:43 a.m. Five minutes later a Stonegate resident preparing to retire noticed a man staring in the window of her second-floor bedroom. She screamed and the prowler fled.

POLICE FOUND he had climbed onto the roof of a side porch by stepping onto a table leaning against a wall. The man tipped over a flower pot as he lowered himself down from the roof, police believed.

Both neighborhoods were searched but no one was apprehended.

Elk Grove Pupil Killed While Running for Bus

Thirteen children safely crossed Algonquin rd. Monday morning and waited for the Elk Grove school bus to pick them up.

One child—8-year-old Jose (Joe) Olivarez—didn't reach the other side of the highway. He was struck by an eastbound car and fatally injured.

THE ACCIDENT occured about one-quarter mile west of route 83 in Elk Grove township. The boy was pronounced dead upon arrival at Resurrection hospital at 8:55 a.m.

Driver of the auto was Wilfred E. Chalifoux, 34, of 1430 W. St. James, Arlington Heights a salesman on his way to work in Chicago.

A coroner's jury ruled the death accidental at the conclusion of an inquest held Tuesday in Arlington Heights.

ACCORDING to inquest testimony of state police officer Richard Hoffman, the point of impact was about 150 feet east of a curve in Algonquin rd.

Three witnesses said they did not see the car coming until it hit the boy or "just before."

The family's attorney said there was good visibility for 500 ft. from the point on the north side where the boy started to cross but that visibility was good for twice that distance from the south side of the highway.

CHALIFOUX SAID he was driving about 50 miles an hour and was 150 to 200 feet away when he saw Olivarez start across the road. He said he cut over to the westbound lane to avoid striking him.

"The boy hesitated when he reached the center of the road and started back. I swung right to avoid him but he went across (to the south) and my car hit him," said Chalifoux. Another witness said Jose was 1 foot from the south edge of the pavement when hit.

POLICE MEASURED a skid mark 46 feet long to the east of the point of impact. Hoffman said the driver was traveling about 50 miles an hour. The boy was thrown 68 feet into a ditch on the south side of the road.

Hoffman termed it "a very dangerous thing" to have 14 children cross Algonquin rd. to reach a bus stop.

The bus stop was changed Tuesday morning to the north side of the road, after Hoffman had requested such of Oscar Miller, operator of 3 buses taking children to the school.

THE CHILDREN live in trailers and small homes on the William Linneman farm on the north side of Algonquin rd.

The route of the bus would have permitted it to stop on the north side. The bus comes north on route 83, turns left onto Algonquin rd., passes a driveway leading into the children's homes and then crosses to a turnaround off the south side of the highway. The bus circles and heads east back to route 83 and heads south to the school. The bus stopped in the drive to pick up passengers.

According to a pupil, bus riders have crossed the road to be picked up for at least 3 years.

Hoffman quoted Miller as saying there was not room to stop on the north side.

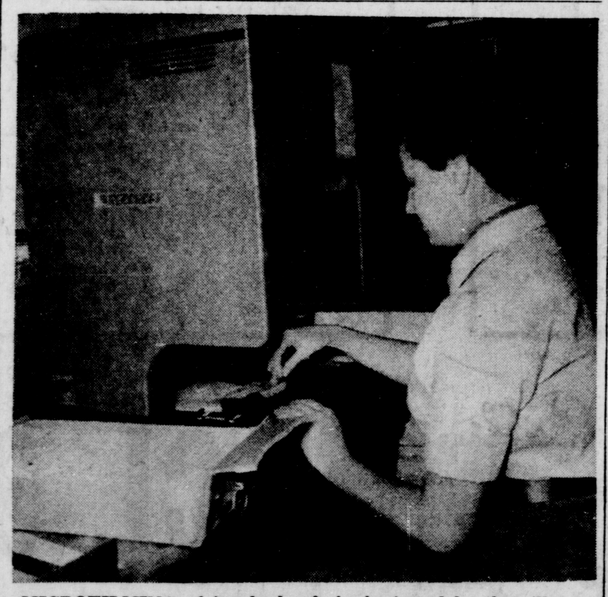
SCHOOL superintendent Ernest Cavallo will check bus stops to see if other children are forced to cross arterial roads.

Oliveraz, a second grader, lived with an aunt and grandmother. Two weeks ago his parents left with 5 other children to seek work in Abilene, Texas. They had not been located Tuesday but police were aiding in the search.

Last year Olivarez and a brother, Ruben, 7, attended Elk Grove school. Three sisters and 2 brothers survive in addition to the parents.

The funeral will be at Black's Memorial home in Arlington Heights at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

The boy was the second student at the school to be killed in a traffic accident within 11 months. A car-truck crash last December 6 took the lives of sixth grader Catherine Banda and her mother. It was the second auto fatality in the township this year.



MICROFILMING of hundreds of checks issued by the village of Arlington Heights since 1954 began Monday. Operating a microfilming unit recently purchased by the village is Mrs. Dorothy L. Zammar, promoted from bookkeeper to village treasurer earlier this month. A village employee for nearly 2 years, Mrs. Zammar lives at 28 S. Reuter and has a son attending Prospect high school.

Report Progress On Master Plan

The first recommendations on a new master plan for Arlington Heights will be given to the village plan commission within a few weeks, probably in October.

A spokesman for the urban planning firm of Evert Kincaid and Associates of Chicago, retained for the master plan study, gave the plan commission a progress report Monady.

M. Eugene Baughmon, who is also supervising a similar study of Mount Prospect by Kincaid, said a land use map is nearly completed.

Collection of data and posting on a village map will require only several days more, he said.

The October report will be a study of the economic life of the village with emphasis on commercial and industrial development. When the planners were engaged, the plan commission asked them to survey possible industrial sites and the desirability of attracting industry to the village.

ALMOST NO VACANT land is available for industrial development within the present village limits.

Noting that Arlington Heights has a greater percentage of built-up land than other nearby communities, Baughman said the village can be called a "mature" town.

Six Infected Elm Trees Destroyed

Six elm trees infected with Dutch elm disease have been cut and surrounding trees sprayed, Arlington Heights village manager F. R. Buechner said Tuesday.

Laboratory reports confirmed presence of the tree-killing blight. The disease was first discovered last summer, when 3 confirmed and 2 probable cases were found.

Buechner said 5 infected trees, including 4 cases not previously reported, were on private property. The 5 newest cases were on N. Hickory, N. Patton, Euclid and N. Beverly. (AF

Phone Strike Spares Suburbs

A nation-wide strike of telephone equipment installers cause only minor delays on long distance telephone calls for northwest suburban users.

Pickets appeared at the Arlington Heights exchange at 6 a.m. Monday after postmidnight negotiations failed. The strike is against the Western Electric co., manufacturing of the American Telephone and Telegraph co.

Only 6 long distance operators crossed a picket line (consisting of 2 men) set up outside the CLearbrook office. A 24-hour shift requires 115 operators, reported local manager Robert E. Kozeliski.

He said the operators' union is the only group which did not report to work, except for the installers.

SEVENTEEN MALE supervisory personnel, including several area residents, manned the CLearbrook switchboard. They also handled long distance calls for FLanders telephone, there being no operators in the Palatine office.

Dial service was unaffected by the strike, which is over wages, allowance for travel time and the duration of a contract.

Wheeling, which is without dial service, was not picketed and hence service was normal. At Barrington, also without dial service, male operators were on duty. (AF

More Meters For Commuters

It'll be even harder in the near future for commuters to find a free parking spot in Arlington Heights.

A favorite free location for Rolling Meadows recently was slated to receive all-day parking meters and even natives using the free lot on S. State rd. will have to start digging for a quarter soon.

A SURVEY of W. Miner st., from Davis st. to Ridge ave. disclosed 86 free parkers, only 7 of them bearing village stickers.

There were 65 cars with Rolling Meadows auto tags, a fact which staggered Arlington trustees. They quickly gave approval for purchase of 90 meters for the street. Wheel stops were also approved.

The meters will yield about $5,200 gross revenue yearly and be paid for in about 2 years.

PARKING METERS have already been ordered for the State rd. facility and are expected to arrive within a month.

Village manager F. R. Buechner Tuesday recommended conversion of 20 one-hour meters in the Dunton-Vail lot into 12-hour meters for the convenience of store clerks and commuters. Sixty one and two-hour meters in the lot haven't had the patronage expected. (AF

Residents Oppose Commercial Zone

An Arlington Heights neighborhood association has come out strongly against allowing construction of a commercial building on the back end of a lot fronting on Northwest highway.

According to a letter to building commissioner Fred J. Hammer, the building is proposed for the north end of a lot on the northwest corner of Princeton ave. and Northwest hwy.

The building would face on Princeton ave., according to the letter. The south end of the lot is occupied by a 2-story building housing a sign firm and real estate and travel agencies.

IN THE LETTER, J. B. Mockenhaupt, president of the Ridge Park Community association, said his group will oppose the project "with every conceivable means at our disposal."

The spokesman said the village president and village manager had verbally assured him the board of trustees would take no action without full consideration.

Hammer said no application for a building permit has been received. (AF

Q. Who are correctly asked to serve as pallbearers at a funeral?

A. Men who are close friends of the deceased. Members of the immediate family are never chosen, as their place is with the women of the family.

Campus-Bound Students Swell This Week's Sidelight News

College Freshmen

The exodus of Arlington Heights young people to the colleges of their choice continues this week as the deadline for enrollment nears. Among those leaving to begin their first year on the campus was Miss Kay Christman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Christman, 101 E. Hawthorne, who left Sunday for Beloit college, Beloit, where she will major in English.

Miss Donna Raffay, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Raffay Jr., 807 N. Patton, also left Sunday for Madison, Wis., where she begins this week as a University of Wisconsin student in a commerce course.

Steve Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Arden Scott, 202 W. Euclid, left Tuesday for Lakeland, Fla., where he will attend Florida Southern university as a freshman in a liberal arts course.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Holloway, 1004 Oakton, drove their daughter, Jane, to Kentucky over the weekend for her enrollment at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, also as a freshman commerce student.

Miss Sheila Kutchera left last week for Boulder, Col. where she will enjoy rush week activities, then begin her studies at the University of Colorado. Miss Kutchera, hostess recently to 30 of her college-bound contemporaries at a farewell party, was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kutchera, 802 S. Vail, who returned home Saturday.

Tom Jacobsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jacobsen, 313 Derbyshire, left Wednesday for rush week at Northwestern university and to enroll in the school of technology there.

Also leaving Wednesday for Northwestern university was Avery Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, 1108 W. Watling. Avery, too, will take part in the university rush week activities, then enroll in the business school for his freshman year.

Garwood Leckband, son of Dr. and Mrs. Norbert Leckband, 211 N. Belmont, plans to enter his father's profession and started the long road to achieve that end last week at Cornell Medical college in New York.

Campus Veterans

Many of the veterans to campus life are also returning to their studies this week, although one senior student left Arlington Heights to be part of the freshman activities at Drake university. She is Miss Judith Dawn Peterson, daughter of the Arthur Petersons, 207 N. Douglas, who was chosen as an orientation counsellor for incoming freshman at the university at Des Moines, and served as such last week. Miss Peterson is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and was chosen at the end of her junior year to be a member of the Kappa Delta Pi National Scholastic honorary fraternity, an honor reserved for education majors who maintain a 3.5 average out of a possible 4 points. Miss Peterson did this throughout her 3 years at Drake. During this she last year, she will spend some time at student teaching in local Des Moines schools.

A recent visitor at the home of Carol Edelblute and her parents, the Walter Edelblutes, 209 S. Pine, was Carol's sorority sister, Miss Carol Reichert of Filer, Idaho, just returned from a European tour. The girls, Delta Delta Delta members, left here for Miss Reichert's home in Filer to spend a few days there before entering their third year at the University of Idaho at Moscow. Miss Edelblute is a student at the school of letters and science.

Miss Jan Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis, 408 N. Evergreen, left Tuesday for Waukesha, Wis. to begin her second year in languages at Carroll college there.

Mrs. Walter Haberichter, 22 Kennicot ave., recently celebrated her birthday by entertaining friends with luncheon in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Peters, 403 N. Belmont, saw 2 sons off to their respective schools of law this week. John, who was recently discharged from the army where he served 2 years upon his graduation from Coe college in Iowa, enrolls in the John Marshall law school in Chicago. He, his wife and infant daughter, Karen, have been staying at his parents' home for the past month and left Sunday for a home in Evanston. His brother, Robert, left here Wednesday for Lakeland, Fla., where he begins his third year in business law at Florida Southern university. Robert, a Sigma Alpha Epsilon and recording secretary of his fraternity, was elected senator at large by the student body and will serve to represent them this year.

Mrs. E. J. Dresmal, 1106 W. Wing, accompanied her daughter, Arlene, to Monmouth Monday where Arlene begins her sophomore year at Monmouth college. Miss Dresmal is taking a liberal arts course and is interested in a career in education.

Miss Lynn Heberling, daughter of the R. H. Heberlings, 819 W. Fairview, left Monday night to return to her studies at Florida Southern university where she will begin her sophomore year. She will spend a few days in Atlanta, Ga. with a Kappa Delta sister at the home of the latter's godmother and both girls, fraternity sweethearts, plan a stop at Georgia Tech university before going on to Lakeland. Miss Heberling was recently chosen the sweetheart of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity. Also at Florida Southern is a former Arlington Heights friend of Miss Heberling's, Miss Susan Milling, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. C. R. Milling, now of Memphis, where Capt. Milling has been assigned by the navy.

Visiting Here and There

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Incaprero and daughter, Shirlee, 206 S. Dunton, enjoyed a weekend trip to Michigan with Mrs. Incaprero's nephew and family the Michael Scaleros of Chicago. They visited in South Haven at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stickle and daughter, Mary, and with them attended the Allegan county fair in its most colorful and successful year. They also made a sightseeing tour through some of the apple orchards for which the state is famous and Mrs. Incaprero reports that the combination of a clear, bright atmosphere and trees laden with ripening fruit made the orchards literally sparkle as the sun touched the apples.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sawyer, 206 W. Campbell, had as guests this past weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Smart of Davenport, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schrader of Rock Island. Other recent guests in the Sawyer home were Mr. and Mrs. George Fetty from Lake Worth, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mudd and Mr. and Mrs. John Gowen of Chicago.

The Walter Johnson family of Pasadena, Cal. were recent visitors at the home of Mr. Johnson's sister and brother-in-law, the Richard Boegers, 132 S. Vail. During their week stay here, they were honored at a lawn party at the Boeger home and greeted 26 members of the family and old friends.

A message from 'Your Pharmacist'

THE COMPOUNDING OF PRESCRIPTIONS requires pharmacists to continuously strive for absolute perfection. No detail is considered unimportant.

EVERY PRESCRIPTION must be carefully read to make certain we know what your physician has specified. Every ingredient is checked, re-checked, and then finally checked once more to make certain we have selected the right one. An error is unthinkable.

WHEN YOUR PRESCRIPTION contains more than one ingredient we must use our pharmaceutical knowledge to so combine them that the completed prescription will best accomplish the desired effect.

THE PRESCRIPTION LABEL must contain the exact information your physician directs so that you can properly take the medicine.

WE MUST PERMANENTLY record every prescription so that the information in it is available for future reference.

AFTER WE HAVE completed your prescription, just before you get it, we once more check everything about it. We know that in it is our reputation. When you entrust your prescription to us you place your very life in our hands.

Use The Want Ads-It Pays

Youth Tells New Alcan Adventure

by EDWARD H. WILSON

(Fourth in a Series)

Anchorage, Alaska (Special — On August 29, just 19 days after leaving Chicago, the Alaskan Trailer Trek has reached Anchorage, biggest city in the territory. All of the travel trailers and cars which started the trip finished it without serious incident.

Friday, August 23, our caravan drove from Muncho lake to a camp site near Watsin lake, in the Yukon. That night one of the men from the California contingent cooked spaghetti and meat balls for everyone in the caravan. Also present for supper was Mr. Friesen, district Royal Canadian Mountie. He invited all 20 of us over for a moose stew dinner at his house the next day.

HIS WIFE HAD prepared a large kettle of moose stew containing moose meat, potatoes, onions, carrots, and plenty of seasoning. The moose had ben shot by the corporal last spring.

After lunch we drove to a secluded mountain lake, 7 miles off the main highway. This was our camp site for the night.

The next day, Sunday, after driving 80 miles in the morning, we were given the afternoon to do as we pleased, just so we were in Whitehorse, capital of the Yukon, by 6 that night. I drove to the Yukon river where I fished for grayling below a dam. I got a small one with a fly rod and a small black fly, but failed to catch another until I changed to a spinning outfit with a small black flat fish lure. I scored a hit with my second cast, it was another two and a quarter pound grayling. Five more were caught on the same lure within the next hour. By that time it was time to leave for Whitehorse.

THE NEXT DAY 6 men in our group were flown to a remote lake deep in the mountains for lake trout fishing. It was the best fishing of the trip. They caught so many lake trout that they ended up throwing them back as fast as they were caught. The rest of the caravan drove to Haines Junction, where we spent the night.

Tuesday morning we fished at Lake Dezadeasn but because of high winds and rough water, fishing wasn't so good. Jack Perry of the Gary Post-Tribune hit with a hard fighting Coho salmon, the first of the trip. In the afternoon we headed for Mirror Creek campground, situated about 11 miles from the Alaskan border.

WEDNESDAY, August 28 the Alaskan Trailer Trek crossed the border. This is one of the few unguarded borders in the world. The only identifying markers are 3 signs and a 6 foot path cut through the woods. We traveled only 30 miles when we came to paved highway, the first in several days. It really felt good.

As we were driving in the afternoon one of the reporters spotted a large moose standing in the swamp. After getting out of his car he saw that a hunter was stalking it. At first, when the hunter shot, the moose fell to the ground. After a minute of thrashing around the moose got up and charged the hunter. A second shot right between the eyes finished the moose for good.

The next day the Alaskan Trailer Trek arrived at its destination, Anchorage, Alaska. Enroute we saw 30 mountain goats high on a mountain side. They were so far away that we didn't seem to bother them in the least.

OUR CARAVAN was escorted into Anchorage by the Anchorage police. There we were met by the mayor and had the Marine drum and bugal corps give an excellent demonstration of precision marching for us. Our caravan then drove to the outskirts of town, where we spent the night.

Although we have reached our destination, the trip is not entirely over. Territory and territory agencies still have several interesting things planned for us. The Navy is flying us out to Kodiak island for a day, on another day we are being taken salmon fishing at Seward.

Two of the men plan on doing some moose and caribou hunting. If they wanted they could hunt mountain goat, or try their skill at duck or ptarmigan shooting. For those who aren't hunters or fishermen, there are always the picturesque mountains and glaciers to see.

IT IS GENERALLY felt by the men who took the trip that the difficulty in traveling over the Al-Can highway is greatly exaggerated. The Canadian section of the highway is a 2 lane dusty gravel road, which is kept in good condition. Because the highway was originally built as an army communication road during World War II, it was purposely made so it would twist and wind through the mountains, which would make it harder for the enemy to bomb it.

The highway is well marked and if the driver holds his speed 45 miles per hour he will have little difficulty in driving over the Canadian section of the Al-Can.

ALL BUT 30 miles of the Alaskan portion of the highway is a paved 2 lane road, which is very easy to drive on. The Alaskan section is by far the more beautiful of the two. During the entire 1600 miles of the Al-Can we didn't encounter any of the usual treacherous mountain curves which are usually found in mountain driving.

During the trip, we had little trouble in finding ample parking space for our 11 travel trailers. In many of the parks we were able to plug into electricity and were also able to use washing machines which the parks provided.

AFTER TAKING the trip I feel that the time was well spent. I was able to see how the continent and the people change as you travel farther north.

What amazed me more than anything else was the similarity between the people of Alaska and the people of the United States. During the trip our caravan traveled through 3 states, 6 provinces, and Alaska.

This trip has been the most enjoyable, exciting, and educational trip I have ever taken. I strongly recommend it to anyone who enjoys the out of doors, driving through green forests, and seeing magnificent mountains.

by FRED GAREISS

One of the most important questions you picture-takers can ask yourselves is: "What's behind it all?"

No, we're not suggesting you turn into a Sherlock Holmes or a psychoanalyst — we're just recommending that you get into the habit of looking behind your subject as well as at it before you shoot a picture.

IN MANY INSTANCES — where exposure, distance, viewpoint and the subject are all the same—it's the choice of backbackgrounds that determines the success of the finished print. What are the best backgrounds? Well, first of all, simple ones—those that complement rather than clutter your picture story, while at the same time offering some contrast in color or brightness.

Next, according to the total effect you want to create, decide whether a neutral background—one that adds nothing to the actual story value of your picture, but serves merely as a plain background.

A NATURAL background, on the other hand, provides something more. It's a setting for the action being performed by the person you're snapping—and as such adds its own story-telling elements to the picture. A shot of a little girl playing with a toy baking set will be twice as effective taken right in the kitchen—the natural setting for such "homemaking" tasks — as if she were pictured holding her rolling pin and cake pans on the front porch.

CHOOSING your backgrounds with care—and an eye on the simple and uncluttered—will give you a better picture every time.

So be sure to look behind your subject before you click your shutter! (B12

Q. Is it always necessary to say "You're welcome," in response to "Thank you"?

National Tea to Launch Trading Stamp Plan Here

The trading stamp boon, which has swept the U.S.A.,but which has been conspicious by its absence in Chicago and suburbs up to this time, will soon descend upon Chicago.

Probably the largest contract of its kind ever negotiated was signed this month by H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Co., and George Schirer, president of the Sperry and Hutchinson Company, issuer of the famed S & H Green Stamps and the nation's largest trading stamp organization.

ACCORDING TO announcement by National Tea Co., housewives will be able to accumulate trading stamps to be redeemed for some 1,500 nationally advertised merchandise items for the home and the person. A number of redemption centers, where the merchandise will be on display, will be established in Chicago and suburbs by the Sperry and Hutchinson Company for the express purpose of making it convenient for housewives to select merchandise, which can be obtained only with S & H Green Stamps and not for cash.

All National Food Stores in Chicago and adjoining suburbs will offer the S & H Green stamps. (BB

Loyalty Program Reforms Cited by Women Voters

by CHARLES HAYES

The controversial loyalty-security program was topic for an enlightening discussion last Thursday night among suburban housewives.

Members of Arlington Heights League of Women Voters met in general session to climax a series of year-long workshops which engaged in study and research of the federal loyalty-security program and its impact on individual liberties.

The League broke precedent for this first meeting of the current year in order to permit a male citizen to "sit in" on the proceedings and gain some first hand knowledge of the women's astute grasp of national problems.

PARTICIPATING in the panel style discussion were Mrs. Gerald Chapman, president of the League chapter, Mrs. MacKenzie Ward, Mrs. James Atkinson, Mrs. Kevin Gillogoly, Mrs. Joel Paulson, Mrs. Stephen L. Caruso, Mrs. Robert D. Borchard and Mrs. Julian Pellitier.

The loyalty-security program was selected for League study because the League has always been "concerned" about constitutional liberties.

The present program, which has evolved under both Democratic and Republican administrations, has been severely criticized for its impact on individual liberties.

FOR EXAMPLE:

1. Discouragement of free inquiry and criticism which are natural in a diversified culture.
2. Confusion over the distinction between disloyalty and dissent.
3. Undermining of the traditions of American democracy. The programs have considerably enlarged government intervention in private affairs. Inquiries and dossiers have greatly multiplied. Investigative files contain materials on thousands of persons never accused of crimes. This is a completely new development in this country and in direct contrast to our democratic tradition of the right of privacy.
4. Dulling of the national sense of justice and fairness. Some of the security practices such as the use of "faceless informers" are alien to our traditions. Furthermore, as the programs continue we tend to accept their extension into other areas without question.

EXPLAINED Mrs. Chapman: "Because loyalty-security programs affect one out of every 10 adult citizens and with the constant tightening of standards, there arises a need for safeguarding national security and protecting individual liberties.

In addition to the legal aspects of the program, the League discussed the cost factor entailed in its cumbersome administration. One year's operation of the Federal Employees program for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955, was approximately $37.4 million. And the Civil Service commission—only one of federal agencies concerned with personnel security—spends one third of its funds on security investigations.

Yet of 3 million persons investigated during one typical period, only one-twentieth of 1 per cent were found to be loyalty-security risks.

RECOMMENDED the local League, in a report to the national board:

1. Revise the program to limit it to security of sensitive jobs. The present system goes to unnecessary extremes in screening non-sensitive jobs and present rules, enacted durin a national emergency, are so literal they prevent common sense judgment.
2. Establish a central security agency for greater uniformity, fairness, and efficiency.
3. Liberalize standards and criteria for judging alleged security risks.
4. Modify the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations to make it more workable, less damaging.

5. Improve procedures to make possible prompt hearings, trained investigators, confrontation of witnesses, right to subpoena witnesses, and an open hearing and public report if the employee so desires.

CONCLUDED Mrs. Chapman: "People need to do more thinking about this problem, read more about it, become better informed. It is affecting the caliber of persons attracted to government service and establishing dangerous precedents in national philosophy."

"The League of Women Voters feels that a loyalty-security program is most necessary for our national security," emphasized Mrs. Chapman. "We do not want to abandon it; we only want to improve and strengthen it in order to protect to the maximum our individual liberties."

Sanitary District Approves Streamwood Sewer Works

Construction of a $260,000 sewage treatment works for the newly incorporated village of Streamwood in Hanover township has been approved by the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.

District trustees Thursday instructed Harry Eaton, chief clerk, to advertise for bids. The $260,000 estimate of cost is that of district engineers.

THE STREAMWOOD plant will be so constructed that its initial capacity to serve a population of 4,000 can be expanded to serve an anticipated population of 28,000 in ten years, said William A. Dundas, district superintendent.

The treatment works will be erected on the south bank of the east branch of Poplar creek, east of Bartlett rd. and between Schaumburg and Oltendorf rds.

Encompassing an area of 200 by 300 feet, the site will be donated by the village's subdivider, Dundas said. It is about one mile north of Bartlett and about six miles south of Barrington. The site is at the south end of present village limits.

A SEPARATE treatment works is needed, Dundas said, because Streamwood "is over the hill or the divide" in the Fox river watershed. Cost of running interceptor sewers from the Des Plaines river drainage area would be prohibitive, he said.

Once construction starts, the plant can be finished in eight or nine months, Dundas said.

One of the newest villages in Cook county, Streamwood was incorporated this spring. (B8

Make Golden Years Exciting

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

As people grow older, they become less and less inclined to take chances. They are more conservative, and inclined to accept their circumstances after middle age with a sort of calm complacency. At that time in life, they could be ready for new endeavers.

Because they have lived and gained experience, they should be able to weigh the factors involved in a new enterprise, and come up with a reasonably safe way of accomplishing their wishes, without a very great chance of failure. There is, of course, after middle age, a need for not making mistakes, for such mistakes can be irreparable. There isn't enough time left to start over and regain the security they need to face the future with complacency; but the fact that old age pensions and sick and health benefit policies does give them certain assurance that they will have a place to live, food to eat and care in case of sickness should give them courage.

DESPITE THE natural, inborn fear of insecurity in old age many elderly people are giving up the old home to buy a trailer or a home in the south, in a genial climate that enables them to live in comfort with rheumatic bones, heart trouble and other diseases of old age which a warm climate helps to mitigate. Those who have done this are living longer, enjoying life more, and getting a little zest out of living.

But far too many are unwilling to start a new venture and do the things they always dreamed of. Fear and habit keep them from getting that little acre in the country where they can raise their own vegetables, get plenty

I would think that the inmates of a new Houston Jail will not appreciate the strides that Television is taking. You see, a permanent TV camera constantly records their antics onto a central screen to the viewing convenience of their guards.

TV cameras in circling planes ten miles overhead pick-up the military tactics of practicing militia and send it to the screens of West Point for study purposes.

Dog race bettors at a Palm Beach Kennel Club in Florida see the race finishes via television in their lounging rooms.

In Oakland, California, a parking lot has a TV Camera mounted high overlooking the spacious lot. A 21-inch screen in the attendant's booth tells him where the empty car spaces are.

You can have baby's room hooked-up with television so you can watch him from your living room.

These are just a few ways that television is being used. However, most of us enjoy TV daily from our easy chairs. We want a clear, sharp picture that is steady. We pride ourselves at LANDWEHR'S TV in knowing how to do this kind of servicing on television. Phone CL 5-0700 if your TV doesn't give you this.

PROCESSING OF NECESSARY FORMS in connection with the awarding of a $600,000 Federal aid grant to the Northwest Community Hospital Center was the business of the day when representatives of the hospital board of trustees met with officials of the State Bureau of Hospitals at Springfield last week.

With business out of the way, the group posed for the above picture. From left to right are F. Thomas McCarthy, Hospital Administrative Consultant for the State of Illinois; W. A. Mullin, of Skidmore, Owings & Merrill, architects for the Northwest Community Hospital; LeRoy A. Garr, legal advisor for the hospital board; Jerome V. Ray, chief of the Bureau of Hospitals of the State of Illinois; N. M. Lattof, chairman of the hospital board of trustees; John R. Bartizal, chairman of the hospital building committee; Ross Garrett, hospital consultant, and James A. Henderson, architect for the State Bureau of Hospitals.

Mr. Henderson will be assigned supervisory duties in connection with the Northwest Hospital and will make periodic checks to see that construction proceeds in keeping with the requirements of the Hill-Burton Act, under which the local hospital project will be given the $600,000. Funds will be issued as the project progresses.

Elder Statesman Flays Trustees

Former trustee Robert B. Bishop assumed the role of elder statesman before the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday.

Stating he did not represent "any firm, corporation or anyone except myself," Bishop took the trustees to task on 2 of their recent actions.

The actions were a vacation of Wing st. between Hickory ave. and the Arlington Market shopping center and a final rejection of a rezoning appeal for property at Euclid ave. and the Chicago and North Western railway crossing.

THE HISTORY of the rezoning of the triangular parcel along Euclid ave. stretches back to Bishop's term on the board. Nearby property owners have fought the requests of owner Arthur F. Thiersch for rezoning to commercial and apartment zoning and the zonging board thrice rejected the case.

Board attempts to bring the 2 sides together in a compromise failed recently, and Mayor Carlisle cast the deciding vote in the final rejections.

BISHOP DECLARED that all possibilities for compromise are not exhausted and called protesting residents "unreasonable" in their demands.

No action was taken on Bishop's plea for more study and the case will probably be taken into Circuit court by the owner.

On his second request, Bishop did better. He said the shopping center intends to use Wing st. and Campbell st. for access to a service road to be built at the west end of the center.

HE RECALLED an agreement to that effect made about 4 years ago with the original backers of the shopping center. The board will reconsider the vacation.

Quipped Bishop before he left: "I want to keep you guys on the right track."

Auto Accidents Here Injure Four

Four persons were hurt, none of them seriously, in auto accidents in Arlington Heights late last week and early this week.

A fifth person, a 12-year-old bicycle rider, escaped injury because a watchful taxi driver stopped his car instantly when the boy turned into his path.

DAVID R. ELLS, 20, of 111 S. Edward, Mt. Prospect, and Barbara Cloud, 20, of 802 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, a passenger in Ells' auto, received head and rib bruises when their car hit a parked car Monday night.

The car, parked in front of 639 N. Belmont, belonged to Charles L. Rezner, 603 S. School, Mt. Prospect.

In another bicycle-auto mishap, 5-year-old Jimmy Scott of 511 N. Yale, received a bruised lip when he was thrown from his bicycle Saturday. James Blocki, 32, of 419 N. Yale, was backing out of his driveway when the auto and bicycle collided.

A FRIDAY NIGHT 3-car accident resulted in bruises and head cuts to John L. Graham, 27, a soldier stationed at Fort Carson, Colo. His auto rammed into the rear of another waiting to turn from Northwest highway onto Euclid ave., throwing it into the path of an oncoming eastbound auto. The driver waiting to turn was Enoch R. Larson, 62, of 306 N. Beverly. Third driver was Raymond Fregd, 61, of Chicago.

Cab driver Tom Williams, 603 N. Forrest, stopped in time to avoid injury to Mike Koceja, 12, of 1603 N. Highland, who rode into the taxi near Willow and State rd. Thursday. (AF

Sidewalk 'Tax' OKd By Trustees

Arlington Heights village board Tuesday passed under a suspension of rules 5 ordinances requiring installation of sidewalks near 3 south side schools.

The walks are to go in on north-south streets within 2 blocks of South junior high school, Park and Our Lady of the Wayside elementary schools.

A SIDEWALK tax will be collected from property owners rather than a yearly special assessment. The procedure is a new one for the village. Under its terms, the village will finance the project and charge 6 per cent interest rather than market special assessment bonds.

Minimum yearly installments will be $100 with repayment due within 5 years.

If they hurry, owners can still install sidewalks by private contract, as residents of one affected block have already done.

Septic Tank Issue Taken Into Court

A builder will go to court in an attempt to break an Arlington Heights ordinance banning installation of septic tanks on lots of less than 20,000 square feet.

H. R. Jacobsen, a builder and real estate operator in the village since 1938, Tuesday sought permission to put a septic tank on a 15,000 square foot lot in Sherwood.

HE WANTED to build on 22 lots, averaging 15,000 square feet, which he controls. He would put in village water and streets.

Trustees, upon a request from Jacobsen, quickly acted to deny a building permit.

The builder said he will seek a writ of mandamus in court to require the building commissioner to issue a building permit.

Palatine Plans Area Gun Show

Plans are being formulated to hold a gun show in the Palatine American Legion hall on the corner of W. Chicago ave. and Greeley st. Saturday, Oct. 5, for Chicago area gun exhibits.

In charge of the show is Paul Selley, 142 S. Bothwell st., Palatine. Selley said the show will be primarily for gun exhibitors to discuss the weapons, their manufacture, history, and also to trade guns.

AT PRESENT, the closest Illinois site for holding gun shows is at Kankakee. Not even Chicago holds gun shows on the state level. However, it does hold gun shows on the national level.

Last week the Palatine village trustees authorized the show and display of weapons, but urged exhibitors to observe village ordinances, use the utmost precaution, and to have no ammunition, live or blanks, present.

Exhibitors may contact Selley at his home. If enough interest is shown in such a show, a gun club may be formed. Selley expects there are 50 to 60 exhibitors in the northwest suburban area who would be interested in the event.

Palatine, Wheeling Plats Are Approved

(CNS) Two subdivision plats in Wheeling township have been approved by the county board.

One, known as J. W. Willens Wheeling Estates, is located on the southeast corner of Dean ave. and Debra lane. The other, called Lynnwood subdivision unit 3, is on the northwest corner of Salem boulevard and Lynnwood ave.

The plats met all requirements and the county map department recommended approval.

A plat of Peacock's subdivision on the northwesterly corner of Doe road and Northwest highway in Palatine township has also been approved by the county board. (AMP

Revoke, Suspend Drivers' Licenses of Suburbanites

One northwest suburban man had his driver's license revoked, 4 others had their driver's license suspended and one his chauffeur's license suspended in the latest announcement made by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier in Springfield.

The 6 area men are among 246 drivers in Illinois who had their licenses revoked and 294 who had them suspended.

THE ONLY person to have his license revoked was Alvis O. Birdwell, 3708 Bobwhite, Rolling Meadows, for 3 moving violations.

Licenses were suspended because of 3 violations for Barton W. Adams, 263 N. Mozart, Palatine; Nicholas Berdnick, Rohlwing rd., Palatine; Anthony J. Caliento, 504 S. I-Oka, Mt. Prospect; and John J. Kerkes, 402 Nawata, Mt. Prospect.

The suspended chauffeurs' license, also for 3 violations, belonged to Edward M. Dickman, 371 S. Meadowbrook, Wheeling.

Q. When the wedding is to be in the afternoon, and the bride is to wear her going-away costume, what should her maid-of-honor wear?

Court Battle Raging Over Arlington Realty Sale

(CNS)—The M and A Building corporation, and Arlington Roller Rink, Inc., both of Arlington Heights, are scheduled to file briefs stating their positions in a court battle over a real estate sale to Superior Judge John Sbarbaro on October 16.

In May, M and A Building corporation, through its attorney, Harry H. Zalosh, filed suit to force the roller rink follow through the sale of property next to the building corporation.

THE SUIT charged G. P. Phillippe, president of the rink, had agreed to sell the land but at a May 20 meeting he did not have the necessary papers prepared.

Zalosh said "when they walked away after the meeting, there was every indication the deal would fall through."

The suit alleged that on May 10 the plaintiffs agreed to buy the lot for $30,000 because they needed the land "desperately" for expansion. When they met again on May 20, the corporation paid $2,000 as previously agreed upon, the suit said.

ZALOSH SAID the rink accepted the $2,000 but Phillippe wanted the rink to retain occupancy of the lot. A used car lot is there now, Zalosh said.

Zalosh contends the corporation has suffered a loss in income each week the roller rink had kept the property. The roller rink allegedly had promised to give up the land on June 1.

This Week with PTA

September Meetings

Three new principals and 2 new schools are the main attractions of the PTA meetings next week. Tuesday, Sept. 24, at 8:15 p.m. the following programs will be presented:

Miner, cafeteria: Introduction of faculty and school committee. Robert Campbell, principal, will speak on "Building the Traditions of a New School." Mr. Campbell joined the local staff in 1946 as a social studies and physical education teacher, in 1952 became principal of Dryden school and this year was made principal of the new Miner school.

South Junior High, gymnasium: introduction of faculty and school committee. A panel of teachers will discuss "What are the Objectives of the South Junior High?" and briefly describe some of the methods used in achieving them. With the new principal, A. Todd Fouty, as moderator, the following subjects will be presented by different teachers: language, art, social studies, mathematics, science, exploratory subjects, physical education, activities program and intramural projects. Mr. Fouty has been a high school teacher and assistant principal in Bloomington, a curriculum coordinator and business manager in Kankakee and most recently a junior high principal in Kankakee.

Westgate, kindergarten room: introduction of faculty and school committee and tour of the new school. Mrs. Helen Castor, principal, will speak on "It Can Happen Here." Mrs. Castor taught kindergarten at Ridge school for 4 years. In addition to being the new principal, she also teaches one session of kindergarten at Westgate.

Pre-School Child Study Group

All parents of pre-school children will welcome the opportunity to attend the first meeting of this group at Dryden school Tuesday Oct. 1 at 8:15 p.m .The film "Emergence of Personality" shows the growth of a child's individuality from babyhood to school age. It is divided into 3 sections, "Baby Meets His Parents," "Helping the Child to Accept the Do's" and "Helping the Child to Face the Don'ts." Mrs. Ruth Sangster, guidance counselor, will lead the discussion period following the films.

Big Bonus

That extremely popular calendar-yearbook is included in the price of PTA membership. The nominal fee of 50 cents per person brings membership in the one organization which encourages understanding between parents and teachers.

The calendar lists early dismissal and vacation dates, PTA meetings, names, addresses and telephone numbers of room mothers, school chairmen and representatives, executive board and school administrators. There is also space to write in personal engagements.

The annual PTA membership drive will begin Monday, Sept. 30, and continue through Friday, Oct. 4. Mrs. John Lindstrom, chairman, announces that further information will be sent home from the schools in a few days.

PTA Magazine

The official PTA magazine can be bought at a price far below that of any current woman's periodical. Again this year, National Parent-Teacher: The PTA Magazine, beginning with the October issue, will publish articles on parents education designed to help teachers and parents better understand the needs and problems of children and teen-agers.

Program guides which include reading references, film lists and adult education techniques will accompany the articles.

Subscriptions will be taken at each September PTA meeting at all schools. The October issue of the PTA Foreword will also contain a subscription blank that can be mailed directly to Mrs. Florence Sorokin, librarian at South Junior high.

Room Mothers' Teas

Room mothers will be honored guests at teas on the following dates: Monday, Sept. 23, at Park and Dryden schools; Wednesday, Sept. 25, at Ridge and North schools; and Thursday, Sept. 26 at Miner, South Junior High and Westgate schools.

Ladies Only

The PTA Women's chorus will gather for its first practice Monday, Sept. 23, at 8 p.m. in the music room of the South Junior high. This is an informal group of mothers and women teachers who enjoy getting together to sing for fun. Anyone interested in joining will be welcome. Miss Vivian Erwin, vocal instructor, is director of the chorus.

For the Men

The Father-Teacher chorus will resume rehearsals again this fall at its first meeting October 1 at 7:30 p.m. at Miner school. All men who like to sing are urged to join. Melvin Kasen, director, has announced that quartets will be also organized. (A

Boy Scout Fund Appeal Slated

A simultaneous fund drive for Boy Scouts of America will be staged October 15 throughout the nation.

The Illinois appeal is being headed by Gov. William G. Stratton with Fred Fulle, member of the county board and a Des Plaines publisher, supervising the fund raising in northwest suburbs.

Assisting him in Arlington Heights will be Charles A Hodlmair, Milt Singelmann, C. E. Perrin, C. W. Gustason, John Rogowski, Alex Salzmann, Charles Edwards, Albert A. Rose, Mark S. Crevistón, William P. Utermohlen Jr., and Robert G. Parsons.

General solicitation in Mount Prospect will be handled by James Doran, Fred Walsh, W. R. Demmert, C. R. Lund, R. E. Spaulding, W. G. McKenzie, A. S. Lankus, A. E. Smedley, D. H. Gomm, Al Siech, and Robert Newgard.

The Prospect Heights drive will be supervised by Martin Hertz, Robert J. Bremner, Ralph J. Garofolo, Richard B. Fitts, George Sheppard, and Leo Sacre.

THE DRIVE, opening October 15, will continue for 2 weeks in its goal to raise funds for continuing and expanding suburban Scout activity.

Cooperating with Fulle will be Eric Church, Northwest Suburban council finance chairman, and Stanley H. Huntington, chief scout executive.

Scouting in northwest suburbs encompasses 4,900 cub scouts, 2,350 boy scouts, 700 explorer scouts, and 2,700 volunteer adult leaders.

All money collected in the October campaign will remain in the Northwest Suburban council.

Say, do you know someone who is confined to a hospital bed, do you know someone who is confined to his home — then why not send him a greeting or "get well" card? At HARRIS PHARMACY we carry the largest selection of Greeting Cards in the Northwest Suburban area.

It takes so little time to sit down and send a card — and oh, what joy and happiness it will bring to the one who receives it. Actually it seems like so little and actually it is, but how many of us will take the time to do it? There are cards for every occasion and just ordinary cards that help those who are ill forget their troubles. It seems like so little to do — but still, how many of us will take the time to do it.

No kiddin', the next time you're in HARRIS PHARMACY, drop around to our Greeting Card department and pick up a dozen cards, cards for every occasion, and then you'll have them at home and can send a card when the idea hits you. Don't forget, it takes so little time, and will bring so much Joy and Happiness.

Planners Told Schools Will Turn To U.S., State for Financial Aid

The inability of small school districts to support themselves will force state and federal governments to shoulder an increasingly large share of the cost of education, northwest suburban planning officials were told Friday.

ADDRESSING representatives of 8 area municipalities meeting in Rolling Meadows, Treval C. Powers, chairman of the Lake Zurich plan commisison, predicted that "more state or federal school aid is coming, whether we like it or not."

Powers saw a two-headed financial "crisis" facing rapidly-growing suburban communities.

THE IMMEDIATE effect of the flight of thousands to the suburbs is the need for school buildings. But later, according to Powers, the soaring cost of operating the buildings again puts school finances into critical condition.

Powers submitted a set of figures purporting to show the gap between residential tax yields and school building and operating expenses.

On a home sold to [illegible] suburbanites for $15,000, said Powers, the school board [illegible] row only $300 for a new school building. But the cost of a school is, at a mimimum, $700 a pupil.

"THE AMOUNT of money the home brings in falls short of school needs by $400," noted the chairman. "That's where our suburban problems come from. Our school board asked builders to contribute $275 per home for buildings—it's all they had nerve to ask for."

A large volume of commercial and industrial construction would be needed to offset the $400 gap, he noted. As industry has not flocked to Lake Zurich, the village has had to require donations from builders.

Hence Lake Zurich, like Palatine, has adopted a method of persuading builders to make "voluntary" contributions.

"We simply took the position that we will not sign a subdivision plat at the expense of our school children," declared Powers.

ON THE LEGALITY of this method, Powers commented with a smile that his commission decided to "let the lawyers argue about that while we did something about the school problem."

Charles Klopp, head of the Palatine plan commission, suggested that the only solution of the school crisis is for communities to "seek a balance between industry and homes."

A VILLAGE with a high percentage of vacant land within its boundaries becomes "a ripe plum waiting to be picked" when nearby suburbs have reached the saturation point, another planner reminded the group.

Winston S. Porter of Deerfield said his village was able to anticipate its growth and adopt a master plan to control it.

"We're trying to stick to the plan we adopted in 1953," Porter said, "but we're being attacked all the time."

RECENT REFINEMENTS in the village's comprehensive zoning ordinance include provision for a lot size of 12,000 square feet and adoption of an office and research building zoning classification.

The village is also annexing all territory up to the toll roads now being built to the west and south of it.

Robert Sales, Rolling Meadows alderman, welcomed the group and sketched the history of his city's subdivision control ordinance.

Communities represented at the group's second meeting were Deerfield, Schaumburg Center, Lake Zurich, Wheeling, Arlington Heights, Long Grove, Rolling Meadows and Palatine. The next meeting will be held in Deerfield in January.

Are vitamins medicine?

Door-to-door salesmen are selling "vitamin preparations" these days and you may think these are therapeutic doses. They may or may not be. Point is, that you can't know whether they are or not, and the salesman probably isn't qualified to know whether you even need them. If you do need vitamins in therapeutic quantities, only your physician can tell you what you need and how much, and only your registered pharmacist should dispense them. Where your health is concerned, always rely on competent professionals.

Q. Is it proper always to seat a woman at a table to the right of her male companion?

A. When practical, yes. The few definite rules about this include the seating of a guest-of-honor on the right of the host or hostess or chairman, and the military rule by which the senior officer walks as well as sits on his junior's right.

Q. When there are a good many people present on some formal occasion, is it essential that any one guest be introduced to every other member of the group?

A. No. A new arrival may be introduced to one or two guests, or he may be left to talk with those nearby without exchanging names.

Q. Is it all right for a divorced woman, who has remarried, to attend the funeral of her first mother-in-law with her second husband?

A. This would be in bad taste. If she wishes to attend the funeral, she should do so alone.

Des Plaines Federal Now Pays 3½ Per Cent Interest

Savers at First Federal Savings of Des Plaines will earn an extra dividend December 31 for the last half of 1957. Recent action by the board of directors increased the rate on savings and investment accounts to 3½ per cent per annum.

W. L. Plew, president of the association, pointed out that the new increased rate of 3½ per cent applies to all present savings and investment account balances as of December 31, 1957, for the 6 months period ending at that time and on all new savings received by December 10. He further pointed out that interest rates had generally firmed and it was the general opinion that they would remain high for some time.

PLEW SAID the mortgage loan demand is still good and that First Federal Savings selects only such loans as have substantial equities behind them and is continuing the practice of not financing large speculative projects but the individual home buyer. The association's lending is still confined to the outstanding northwest suburban area.

It is well known that the association's principal income is interest from first mortgage loans and U. S. government securities. Interest rates on these selective investments have advanced to pre-war levels and the need for funds for new highways, St. Lawrence waterway, schools and corporate financing should remain high for some time.

HE ALSO STATED that the present policies of safety, availability, convenience and a cash position considerably above the minimum would still be maintained. First Federal Savings of Des Plaines is the largest savings institution in the Northwest Suburban Area.

First Federal is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank system and savings are insured to $10,000.00 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation. (AMP

First Elm Tree Blight in 1919

Dutch elm disease was first discovered in Holland, Belgium, and France about 1919. Dutch women scientists were the first to report its presence, study its effects, and determine its cause.

Th disease is believed to have been introduced into Europe from Asia during the first World War. By 1933 it had spread to England and throughout continental Europe, including Spain, and the Scandinavian and Balkan countries, killing thousands of elms.

THE DISEASE was first found in the United States in 1930, when the causative fungus was isolated from a few diseased elms in both Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio.

In 1933 large number of diseased trees were discovered around New York City. Soon thereafter elm logs from France, intercepted at the port of New York, were discovered to be infected with the Dutch elm disease fungus.

From these same logs, the smaller European elm bark beetles, well-known carriers of the disease fungus, were identified. Additional logs bearing both the fungus and its beetle carriers were intercepted at Norfolk, Va.; Baltimore, Md.; and New Orleans, La.

WITHIN 5 YEARS the disease had spread from New York City over 7,500 square miles and had destroyed over 27,000 trees in New York, New Jersey, and oCnnecticut.

By 1937, new isolated outlying infections had occurred at Cleveland, Cincinnati, and Athens, Ohio; at Baltimore, Brunswick, and Cumberland, Md.; at Portsmouth and Norfolk, Va.; at Wiley Ford, W. Va.; and at Indianapolis, Indiana.

A federally financed intensive eradication campaign failed to halt overland spread of the disease from one community to another, but reduced substantially the numbers of trees annually affected. During and following World War II, when little or no federal control work was done, the disease accelerated its spread throughout the northeastern states.

IN 1944 THE disease was found for the first time in Canada, in the St. Lawrence valley of Quebec, and is believed to have been introduced there on elm wood crates from Europe.

By 1950 the disease had spread westward to the Detroit area of Michigan via the province of Ontario, to east central Illinois apparently from Indiana, and to eastern Colorado from an unknown source.

By 1952 it had appeared in the St. Louis area of Missouri, where it is now firmly established.

In 1956 it was reported in Wisconsin for the first time. In Illinois it had approached to within 35 miles of Iowa. (B8

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB PADDOCK

MIKE SPINELLO won more golf honors over the weekend when he copped the all-star public links championship on the second hole of a sudden death playoff at Jackson park course. Mt. Prospect golfer, Northern Illinois sophomore at DeKalb, had been tied at 70 by Al Barkow of Sunset Valley. Barkow's drive that first playoff hole went wide, with Mike's shot straight down the middle. The pair tied with 4's, after both just missed first putts. On the second, Barkow again went wide and dropped in with a 5 as Mike carded a 4.

MIKE SPINELLO

Spinello went out in 33, chalking up 3 birdies with brilliant putts of 20, 15 and 20 feet. He bogied twice. On the way in he bogied twice on the 11th and 13th. He made a bid to clinch the title on the 260-yard par 4 18th when his drive was hole high in a bunker just off the left of the green. His chip was 10 feet from the cup. Needing a 3 for a 69, Mike's putt stopped inches short. Bob McDonald, one of Rob Roy owner Pat McDonald's sons, tied for third at 73.

WE'VE ALWAYS INSISTED brains as well as muscle and athletic ability are required to be a top notch athlete. Awards to be made Friday night by the Cardinals Booster club at Arlington's football game against Riverside-Brookfield will have 7 boys receiving scholar-athlete trophies for the winter and spring sports of last school year.

Five of those 7 boys had straight-A marks, including Dan Vittum, winner of the awards in both basketball and baseball for the second year in a row.

Dan, now attending University of Illinois, may not be present to receive congratulations of the crowd for having won awards in football, too, both junior and senior years. James Erickson will receive the award in tennis, acknowledging his 5.00 average.

A triple tie existed in track with sophomores Bob Barbour and Ed Whitelaw, and freshman Tony Stavros, all had straight-A marks last year.

Don Pink took top scholar award in wrestling, is now attending Carleton college, may not be on hand for his award. Bob Sbarbaro won the award in golf, is now a junior. Our hat is tipped to all of these boys. Stavros, by the way, filled in at fullback with the frosh-soph football team last week, scoring 2 touchdowns. He will probably be seen this week at tackle.

EVERY BIG TEN school except one has former Illinois preps on its roster this year. There are 20 more former Illinois preps playing in the Big Ten at the present time than from any other state. And, yet there are those who say Illinois is slipping as one of the nation's great grid talent-producing states.

Ohio and Illinois are the two top producers of football talent for the Big Ten. There are players from 32 of the 48 states playing Western conference football this year but nearly half of the 669 players listed on the ten rosters are from just Illinois and Ohio alone.

There are 146 ex-Illinois high school stars playing in the Big Ten and there are 126 from Ohio for a total of 272 players from the two states alone.

Like Illinois Ohio is represented on every roster except one. The only school which does not have a former Ohio prep is Minnesota. The only one without a former Illinois prep is Ohio.

Illinois isn't as self reliant on home talent as Ohio is, though. Out of the 68 now out for football at Illinois ,50 of them are home state products. There are 10 states represented on the Illinois roster. Ohio state has a roster of 64 candidates which represent only five states. Of the 64 there are 58 from Ohio itself.

At the opposite end of the scale is Michigan State which has a roster of 74 players from 15 different states. Just under half are from Michigan, 36. There are 10 from Pennsylvania, 8 from Illinois, 8 from Massachusetts, two from California and one each from Arizona, Indiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Ohio, South Carolina, New York, Hawaii, Texas, and Florida.

Iowa and Northwestern both draw heavy on Illinois prep talent, 21 at Northwestern and 20 at Iowa .Purdue has 15, Michigan and Wisconsin 12 each and Indiana and Michigan State eight each. Ohio's representation is a little more scattered. Purdue is the biggest draw on Ohio prep talent outside the state university with 25 on the Boilermaker roster.

CARTHAGE COLLEGE sports notes carried the name of Arlington's John Eakins for the last time this week as it reported him "among the missing" . . . John has been graduated . . . Only 1 returning letterman from this area is listed, Roy Everson of Glenbard, 6-2 215-pound tackle . . . Al Schoenbach, 6-1 180-pound letterman from York at DeKalb, is currently hobbling around on crutches after a minor but painful leg injury . . . Huskies will host Wheaton in its opener Saturday . . . York grad Jack Falter is starting his final season as center for Iowa State . . . Wally Strauch of York could be one of the top quarterbacks in the Big Seven at Kansas.

The typewriters of 2 former sports writers of Paddock Publications may be arch enemies, but Bob Frisk and Pete Swanson will be traveling together to out-of-town games of Champaign high school, writing their stories for rival papers.

On the cross country squad at Lawrence is Harold Benware of Hinsdale . . . Football lettermen include backfield ace Jack Leatham of Hinsdale . . . Palatine's Doug Hildebrandt has nailed down the left end spot for Miami and will compete against U. of Houston in Houston this Saturday . . . No. 4 guard for Illinois so far is Ken Kraml of Hinsdale . . . No. 3 center at DeKalb is Herb Ward of Ela-Vernon, a 6-3 210-pound junior . . . Starting line for NU will average 212.

Card Cross Country Squad Wins Opener

Arlington's cross country squad won its first match of the season at Glenbrook Tuesday, 16-66. Cardinals took the first 4 places, plus sixth, with Ken Courter coming in first at 9:27.

First 10 boys finishing for Heights included Ken Courter, Alan Hutchinson, Bob Taggart, John Anderson in the first 4 spots, Ron Marks sixth, Dodge, Koopman, Vaughan, Luedke and Schroeder.

Glenbrook's first 5 were Frye 5th, Nash 12th, Ledger 15th, Grant 16th and Stafford 18th. (Sp

Cards Host in WSC Grid Opener Friday

Fans Optimistic At Leyden Win, Hope For More

Arlington High school's varsity football team will open the West Suburban conference season at home Friday night against Riverside-Brookfield with perhaps a brighter outlook than many a season.

Cardinals showed well against Leyden last week, offering both inside and outside attacks, good punting and a better-than-ever pass attack.

But R-B is also stronger than last season, has 2 halfbacks with good speed, and capable pass-catching ends. R-B passed a lot last year and did the same against Rich last week, both short and long.

THE BULLDOGS use passing as their No. 1 offensive weapon, and will provide Heights defenses with a stiff job. R-B came from behind twice to win last week, 19-13, over Rich. Visitors will be determined to win their share of games in the WSC, pointing to victory over the Cardinals as a good place to start.

Maine is rated No. 1 in the league by most coaches, with LaGrange, Arlington and Hinsdale pegged for other spots in the first division. LaGrange will probably be strong, with Hinsdale showing surprising power last week against Joliet.

"IT WAS TEAM effort that won at Leyden," stated Heights coach "Bus" Ormsbee. "The boys played as a unit with no individual stars. Several played particularly well, but it was team effort that enabled them to gain the limelight."

Jack Weber's defensive play was outstanding, with his offensive work almost as good. He averaged 47 yards on 4 punts, with all of the kicks going high. Howie Berg was outstanding on Howie Ber was outstanding on offense, averaging 8.1 yards in 14 carries, an exceptional mark. Other halfback, Bob Mors, carried the ball just 3 times but averaged 8.3 yards in the process, making the halfbacks doubly dangerous.

THE LINE did a very good job opening holes, with blocking looking sharp except downfield. Latter is one of the problems coaches hoped to solve this week. Tom Grey, now more familiar with pass patterns at Heights, has the potential of becoming the best quarterback at Arlington since Dick Winterbauer.

He tossed a 55-yard TD pass to Weber which was called back due to holding. He also flipped a 40 yard aerial to Bob Mors that led to Arlington's second touchdown. It means the Cards will have a passing threat that will help the ground game, too.

DEAN SCHNECK looked superb at offensive tackle, to the delight of coaches. He is the only lineman other than Roger Bader who did not see regular action last year. Center spot needs some work, with centering on points after touchdown nothing to cheer about.

Roger Farleigh and James Peery worked very well against Leyden on defense. They replace Grey and Bader of the offensive teams. Otherwise, most Arlington boys see action both ways. Alan Sander, who played well both offensively and defensively at Leyden, saw all defensive action and replaced Thill occasionally on offense. (Sp

ROGER FARLEIGH is a defensive end for the Arlington gridders who showed well in the victory over Leyden Friday night. He'll be in action against R-B in the Cards West Suburban league opener on the Heights field this Friday night, Sept. 20.

R-B Tougher For Card Sophs

Somewhat of a smile graced the face of Arlington frosh-soph football mentor Bill Beckman Tuesday as he thought over last week's victory over Leyden, but the thought of a tougher game with Riverside-Brookfield coming up this Friday on the home field also provided a few furrows in Bill's brow.

The squad had a lot of work ahead of it this week. Heights defense was acceptable the first half against Leyden, but the second half showed several weaknesses. These will have to be corrected if the young Cardinals are going to make any sort of a name for themselves in WSC competition.

THE OUTLOOK in the West Suburban loop is about the same at frosh-soph level as in the senior division. Maine will be the toughest, in spite of that loss to Evanston last week. LaGrange sophomores whipped Oak Park, and Hinsdale will probably be rough late in the season.

Arlington will play host to R-B Friday night. Glenbard will travel to Hinsdale, LaGrange will host Maine and Downers will compete at York in Saturday afternoon games.

NO INJURIES cropped up in Friday night's game against Leyden, though Westergaard and Leekley are still ailing for the young Cards. Westergaard was used on just 1 play, a kickoff, against Leyden. Leekley was used only on defense. If they can improve by Friday night, both will be seeing offensive action.

George Bork, Mike Dundy, Tony Stavros, Dick Johnston, Dan Striegel and Roy Klehm all played good games against Leyden, with others showing well but less conspicuously. Two boys who will be eligible for this week's game, who had reported late for practice so could not play last week, are Bruce Fichte and Bob Owen.

Fichte is expected to take over at fullback with Stavros moved back to tackle. He'll probably alternate with Fred Shipman. Tony can be used at both positions, and will be a big help to the coaches in that capacity. Owen is expected to add defensive strength to the team. (Sp

JIM PEERY looked good against Leyden as defensive outstanding linebacker for the Arlington football team and is certain to be used again this Friday night in the season opener against Riverside-Brookfield. He usually replaces Roger Bader of offensive team for Coach "Bus" Ormsbee.

Ernie Koche Tops Paddock Classic League With 629

Paddock Classic Traveling League bowlers had a slow start Saturday night on the Ten Pin alleys at Barrington, with only 2 keglers passing the magic 600 figure. Eleven bowlers made better than 180 averages the first night, however.

Beverly Lanes, Des Plaines Bowling and Hi-Way Recreation fives each won 2 games Saturday, with Beverly hitting 2839 series, including games of 878, 978 and 983. Ernie Koche notched games of 181-223-225 for a 629 series and 209 average for Beverly, with teammate Joe Cordulack hitting 173-220-207 for a 600.

Koche and Cordulack hold the only 200 averages in the league after the first night with LeRoy Papineau of Ten Pin Blatz at Barrington averaging 192.

Des Plaines will be host to Barrington, Palatine will travel to Wheeling and Mt. Prospect will be host to Arlington this Saturday night, Sept. 21.

Boosters Help Send 6 Bus Loads Students to Games

For the first time in the history of Arlington high 6 bus loads of students attended the Arlington vs. Leyden football game Friday evening.

Students paid 25 cents each. Boosters club paid the $60 difference to underwrite the project, which is expected to not only create interest in the games and help build school spirit but also provide transportation to the games for many students who would not attend otherwise. It is planned to continue this project through the basketball as well as football season if Boosters funds hold out.

THE COSTS of these and other projects of the Cardinals Boosters club are paid from membership dues at $2 per family for husband and wife. Those desiring to join this worth while organization are urged to send their $2 (or more if they desire) to Mrs. Betty Barbour, 751 S. Bristol, Arlington Heights.

At last Tuesday's meeting of the Cardinals Booster club, the group voted to appropriate $200 toward the cost of filming varsity as well as frosh-soph games to assist the coaches in developing even better teams, and to supplement funds now available from school sources for this project which, like everything else, get more expensive each year.

ANOTHER NEW project will be unveiled Tuesday evening, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre at Arlington high school when pictures of the first 3 varsity and frosh-soph games will be shown to Booster club members and those desiring to join.

This Friday evening at the Riverside-Brookfield opening conference game the Boosters club will give scholarship trophies to winners of all the spring sports. Out of 8 boys to be honored 6 of the athletes had straight A averages and the 2 others almost perfect marks for the year.

TOM KOUROS was MC for the grand opening of Paddock Classic Traveling League at Barrington Ten Pin Saturday night. Tom spoke of the obligation bowlers had in fostering good will of the league, and mentioned the hopes of league promoters in having the group approach the marks rolled in the larger city classic leagues in the future.

Midget Football Games Saturday At Mt. Prospect

Mt. Prospect midget football association will get underway this Saturday with 2 games scheduled: Fairview vs. Lions and Lincoln vs. Owens. The games will start at 2:30 and 4:00 P.M., and will be played on the Lions Park Field.

Approximately one hundred boys, who comprise the 4 football teams, are anxious to get the season underway. Their first week of practice consisted of running through plays, blocking, tackling, and passing drills. Much of their time this week has been devoted to scrimmaging.

All coaches are high on their teams, but readily admit that a few things such as timing and blocking assignments must be ironed out before the first game. (Sp

Arlington Gridders Look Good Whipping Leyden

For the first time in at least 10 years Arlington's Cardinals opened a season with a victory. Leyden's Eagles, usually strong opposition, were the victims, 19-6 at Franklin Park Friday night.

The locals were impressive in their opener and could easily have scored on 2 other occasions. Leyden's score, on the other hand, was a gift and came after the win had been assured.

Howie Berg, senior halfback, was the big groundgainer for the Birds, personally picking up 140 yards. Berg got help from Bob Mors and Dennis Thill as Arlington racked up 16 first downs, 14 by rushing.

THE GAME got off to a slow start as each team failed to make good first quarter scoring threats. After an Arlington drive ended on the Leyden 37, the Eagles marched to the locals' 17 yard line before the Redbird line tightened up. Two 15-yard penalties had aided the Leyden threat.

Forced to punt, Jack Weber, at end this year, picked up a badly centered ball in the end zone and ran it back for a first down. Two plays later Tom Grey hit Weber with a 67-yard pass play and what looked like the first score of the game. However, the officials called the touchdown back and walked off another 15 yard penalty against Arlington.

Arlington was forced to kick, but the Eagles returned the ball after failing to move the ball any distance.

BERG RAN the punt back 17 yards to the Arlington 27. On the first play from scrimmage the fleet halfback went 32 yards outside end for a first down on the Leyden 45.

Mors moved to a first down on the 34 before Grey was thrown for a 14 yard loss. Grey bounced back with a beautiful pass to Mors for a first down on the Leyden 5.

The touchdown continued to elude Arlington, however, as a fumble in the backfield resulted in another 14 yard loss. The score finally came on the next play, in unorthodox fashion. Berg spurted to the 5 but fumbled, the ball rolling into the end zone. Center Greg Rose fell on the ball giving the Redbirds a hard-earned 6 points.

Weber converted and the half ended after Berg intercepted a Leyden pass on the Arlington 5 and prevented further scoring.

ARLINGTON took the second half kickoff and marched to the Leyden one yard line on 9 plays, the big gain being Berg's 32-yard junket to the Eagles 5. However, Leyden's line held on the one foot line.

After a short attempt to move the ball, Leyden tried to kick out of danger. Berg returned the ball to the Leyden 34, and this time the locals were not to be denied.

Berg established a first down on the 20 with an 11 yard trek, and Mors' 9 yard off tackle gave the Redbirds the ball on the 9. On a quarterback keeper, Grey went into the end zone for the score. A bad center ruined the conversion attempt.

THE REDBIRDS kicked off, but the Eagles' deep man brought the crowd to its feet as he played "hot potato" with the ball, deep in his own territory. He picked it up, dropped it, picked it up again, dropped it, kicked it, and did everything but run with it or throw it out of bounds. Arlington's Jim Peery finally fell on the pesky pigskin on the one yard line.

Thill plunged for the TD and Weber made it 19-0 as the third quarter came to a close.

LEYDEN'S SCORE came late in the fourth quarter and was aided by 2 long walks toward the Leyden goal by the referee. Halfback Frank Asta finally plunged for the 6 points, but the extra point attempt was no good.

Captain Bob Creviston and Jack Weber led a good Arlington defense, which held the opponents to a net gain of 52 yards on the ground and only 3 first downs by rushing.

Others instrumental in the line play included Ralph Wille, Roger Farleigh, Dave Buren and Don Gerken.

Depth in the backfield was provided by Ed Schumacher, Al Sander, and Jim Morris, who responded well when called upon.

Bob Creviston reinjured his knee, but was expected to see action in Friday's WSC opener with Riverside-Brookfield. (Sp

Arlington JV's Beat Notre Dame

Arlington's Jayvee football team copped a 19-6 decision over Notre Dame on the Heights field Monday afternoon.

Coach Ted Wissen's boys started fast. Just after the kickoff, with the ball on the 45, Al Seyler ran 55 yards for the TD on a dive play, with Dave Ebert kicking the extra point.

Notre Dame was held, and punted with Card safety Bob O'Neil catching the ball and dashing 60 yards for the score.

The locals racked up their final tally when Jeff Heintz scored on a pitch out from 20 yards in the second period. Point after was blocked.

In the third quarter Notre Dame tallied on a 20-yard pass into the end zone. PAT was blocked, game was a seesaw affair the rest of the time. (Sp

End Runs Beat Card Frosh 'A'

How to solve an end run was the No. 1 problem for Arlington's frosh "A" football team at Niles Monday, with a 14-0 lead disappearing before a 33-point onslaught in the process.

That best tells the story of Coach Ed Aldrich's yearling gridders in their season opener against the young Trojans of Niles. Locals will travel to Riverside-Brookfield this coming Monday for the first conference game.

THE CARDINALS drew first blood with Frank Hermes going over on a quarterback sneak after a 60-yard drive. Keith Voigt ran the point after, making it 7-0 the opening quarter. In the second period Voigt went through the line for an 87-yard dash, and TD, with Ed McCabe running the point after.

Niles started their end runs about this time and it was 14-13 by halftime. Niles scored again in the same manner in the third segment, making it 20-14 with 2 minutes remaining. Off tackle slant for 35 yards gave the winners a still larger margin with a desperation last second pass by Arlington giving Niles its final TD. The pass was intercepted and that was the story.

The tackle spots were manned by 245-pound Jim Minikel, 240-pound Dale Malzahn and 284-pound Stan Loerzel. At the guards it was George Dilley, Mike O'Connell and Darrell Phillips. Jeff Rogers served at center. Coach Aldrich expects to use the same line for the R-B game, 'cept for possibly Phillips at tackle.

Among the injured, Dennis Leonard may be able to play in another week while Keith Grams is not expected to be available for 2 weeks. (Sp

75 Report for Softball At Prospect Hts. School

Over 75 boys turned out for the Prospect Heights grade school softball tryouts held during the past week. At the conclusion of the tryouts Coach Ben Kozlik selected the following boys to represent the school in competition with schools in the Little "8" conference: Ronnie Iverson, Ralph Garafolo, Roger Luedke, Bob Christofferson, Richard Fitts, Joe Morreales, Wayne Zaehler, Richard Hendrickson, Richard Gay, Bob Geller, Alan Gehrke, Doug Vaughan and Dennis Bozowsky.

The boys listed below have been selected on the "B" squad. Chucky Halverson has been selected to take charge of the seventh grade boys on the "B" squad and Alan Holcolm has been placed in charge of the eighth and sixth grade boys selected on the "B" squad. The teams play intra-squad games and occasionally play the varsity. They sit in with the "A" squad whenever baseball instructions are given or particular plays are tried.

The "B" squad will have an opportunity to compete with other schools if enough transportation can be provided: Chucky Halverson, Tom Bremner, Robert Coty, Carl Davidson, Kraig Klofenstein, Dan McGowan, Tom Radcliffe, Mike Smith, Dale Vivirito, Gary French, Martin Meisenheimer, Martin Lester, Alan Holcolm, John Sigwart, Billy Wiltshire, Dennis Friello, Fred Kottke, Robert Krueger, Terry Lenio, George Renner, Jimmy Echardt, Ronald De Stories, Grant Gentry, Bill Kist, Larry Gebhart, Gordon Keeley, Tom Richardson and Robert Tatge.

ROBERT CHRISTOFFERSON was elected captain of the Propect Heights 1957 softball team by his teammates. He will lead his team in quest of the Little "8" Softball Conference title. Last year the Prospect Heights team finished second, losing only one game and winning seven. Robert was a regular on last years lightweight basketball team, is an honor student and is active on the Prospect Heights Student Council.

Prospect Heights Alumni came back to say "hello" to former schoolmates by way of base hits which spelled out a 12 to 6 victory over this years softball team. The picture looked very bright for the present squad as they held a 4 to 1 lead for four innings. It wasn't long after ward when the heavy guns of the alumni opened fire and shattered all dreams of an upset victory. Bob Glaser, Dan Malloy, Don Buick, Bob Bremner, Robert Kist, Les Truelson and Jeff Fahrner clouted the ball all over the lot just to show the boys how they used to do it. John Hoffman did a good job of pitching for the alumni.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS team used Dennis Bozowsky, Doug Vaughn, and Richard Gay in a futile attempt to stop the heavy bombardment.

This year's team had their moments of satisfaction too, when Ralph Garafolo and Dennis Bozowsky clouted round trippers and Captain Robert Christofferson did some clutch hitting with men on base in the early stages of the game. Ralph Garafolo played a spectacular game in the field with about 9 assists and 4 put outs.

Card Sophs Take 3 TD Lead, Hang On to Whip Leyden

Arlington's frosh-soph gridders moved to an early 21-0 lead and survived a wide open second half to take a 34-14 victory over Leyden's young Eagles Friday night at Franklin Park.

Mike Dundy and Ernie Stavros provided the heroics with jaunts of 95 and 81 yards, respectively. Stavros scored a second touchdown, and quarterback George Bork passed to end Ricky Johnston for another score, and sneaked for the final tally in the fourth quarter.

THE BIRDIES scored the first time they got their hands on the ball. Ernie Stavros climaxed a 66 yard march with a spurt through a big hole in the right side of Leyden's line. Dundy plunged for the extra point.

After Leyden was forced to punt, Arlington moved to 2 first downs before having a pass intercepted and returned to the Redbird 13. The Arlington line rose to the occasion, and a Leyden end dropped a fourth down pass all alone in the end zone.

THE LOCALS took over on the 15, and 2 plays later Stavros streaked 81 yards to paydirt. Striegel converted, making the score 13-0.

An 8-yard Leyden punt gave Arlington the ball on the midfield stripe. Dundy went 15 yards for a first down, Stavros picked up 4, and a 15-yard penalty put the ball on the Leyden 16. Bork with Johnston with a pass and Johnston went into the end zone. Striegel converted and the half ended with Arlington leading 20-0.

ARLINGTON'S defense, which had held the young Eagles to only one first down in the initial half, weakened in the third quarter.

The home towners took the second half kickoff and marched 57 yards on 5 plays, Linberg doing the scoring on a quarterback sneak. A pass to Jensen was good for the extra point.

ARLINGTON still had some surprises left though. After fumbling the kickoff and recovering on the 5-yard line, Mike Dundy galloped 95 yards to make the score 27-7. The conversion attempt failed.

Before the Arlington coaches could relax, Leyden had retaliated. An end run provided a first down, and a 40-yard reverse play set up the score on the 3-yard line. Neuman plunged for the TD and also added the extra point.

The third quarter ended with Arlington 2 touchdowns ahead, 27-14, but still uncomfortable.

THE FOURTH quarter belonged to Arlington, however, as Leyden's desperation passing attack was something short of deadly. After taking over the ball on the Leyden 27, the Birdies added one final tally, Bork doing the honors on a quarterback sneak. Striegel converted and the final score was established, 34-14.

Coaches Bill Beckman and Bob Hoese singled out linemen Roy Klehm, Karl Graf and Ricky Johnston for special praise, and seemed well pleased with the way the offense clicked. They had expected defense to be their strong point, but break-away runners like Dundy and Stavros could change the emphasis.

Glenbrook Grid Streak Stopped by No. Chicago

by G A McELROY

The longest string of games without a defeat in Illinois prep football came to an end Saturday when North Chicago scored in the last 2 minutes of play to upset Glenbrook 19-12 in the opening game of the New Tri-County conference. North Chicago's aerial attack in the final quarter turned the trick. The final touchdown came just 4 plays before the end of the game when Ron Stanczak tossed the 13-yard pass to Rudy Basebsky in the end zone and Earl Herman got the only conversion of the afternoon on a line plunge.

Both teams showed little offense in the first half which ended in a scoreless tie and few fans had any idea of the fireworks to come. At the start of the third quarter North Chicago fumbled to the Glenbrook Spartans who moved to the NC 10 yard line but lost the ball on downs. Then North Chicago promptly fumbled the ball back to the Spartans and Frank Coffey drove off tackle for a touchdown.

NORTH CHICAGO then rolled 60 yards in 11 plays and Ron Stanczak, veteran quarterback, sneaked over from the 5-yard line. Neither team made good on conversions. Glenbrook back strong and a 55 yard run by Al Tinker, who was brought down from behind by Jim Jones, set up the second Glenbrook score from the 5-yard stripe with Jim Lass going over 4 plays later from the 1 foot line.

North Chicago, not to be outdone, came back to tie the score again in 5 plays. Highlight was a 64-yard pass play gain with Bob Armstead, junior basketball star, snaring a long pass from Ron Stanczak and racing to the 2-yard line. Earl Herman went over for a 12-12 tie.

Select All-WSC Grid Team Since AHS Entry

In the mood for an argument? Then let us present our All-West Suburban Conference football team for the period since Arlington entered the loop in 1951!

The selections cover these 6 years of conference football and are the result of actual observation of the players involved and a close study of the press clippings which, we admit, are sometimes misleading.

TAKING OUR All-Stars by position, we list Tom Peters of Glenbard and Clint Elmore of LaGrange at the end slots. There can be no question about Peters as he holds the conference record for most scoring passes caught in one season with 10 and was All-Conference and All-State. Elmore, playing both offensive and defensive end, stood out on the latter. He sparked the 1951 LaGrange team that went undefeated in the league, scoring 157 points to the opponents' 29. A 6-0, 190 pounder, Clint was a vicious tackler and an excellent blocker.

LaGrange's Bide Thomas and Glenbard's Joe Saviano earn the tackle slots. Thomas was another stalwart on the LaGrange powerhouses of the early 1950's, and he later earned grid letters at Yale University. Saviano, a 6-2, 200 pounder, was as tough a competitor as the loop has seen in a long time. He stood out on the '53 Glenbard team.

DICK PURCELL of Hinsdale and Bill Patch of Glenbard rate the nod at guards. Purcell, a 1954 All-Stater, played offensive guard and defensive tackle on a five-man line and led the conference champs that year in defensive tackle and fumbles recovered. Patch was an All-Conference choice 2 years running and with good reason—he was a mobile guard who helped pave the way for the Bards' creditable offensive attack.

Jack Falter, York athletic great in 1953, is head-and-shoulders above the other center candidates and deserves mention on this All-Star unit. Falter has lettered 2 years for Iowa State.

The All-Star backfield caused a little trouble, but the 4 boys honored would certainly rank with the "best" ever produced in the WSC. Arlington's Dick Winterbauer, a 2-time All-Conference back, quarterbacks the mythical team with Bruce Gallup of Maine and Don Vena of Hinsdale holding the halfback positions.

GALLUP HOLDS the conference scoring record with 16 touchdowns in 1952, including one 95-yard jaunt against Arlington, and Vena literally powered his way to 10 counters in '51.

At fullback is Leon McRae who just edged Maine's Clem Ryan for the honor squad. The powerful LaGrange grad tallied 12 touchdowns and 10 extra points in 2 varsity campaigns and was honored on 2 All-Conference teams and 1 All-State unit.

Deserving special mention on this All-Star team are 2 Arlington products, center Jim Intravartola and halfback Johnny Sujack, the Cardinals' first All-Stater in history. Both boys were "near misses" on the mythical eleven.

There it is. The "dream team" of the West Suburban Conference since 1951—as we see it. Any comments? (SP

Starting Lineup Takes Shape

Northwestern's football team moves into the final 2 weeks of practice before its opener with Stanford at Palo Alto, Sept. 28, with a starting unit pretty well set, but with the problem of replacements providing Coach Ara Parseghian some disquieting moments.

Early drills with their emphasis on conditioning have taken a heavy toll in injuries, with one potential starter, Chuck Jerasa, guard, out of the opener due to a broken foot.

"Team spirit is good and the players have worked themselves into good condition," said Parseghian, "but injuries have hampered our progress, especially in the middle line positions."

MOST PLEASING development has been the performance of 2 sophomore quarterbacks, Chip Holcomb and John Talley, who are waging a spirited battle for the job left open by the graduation of Dale Pienta and Jack Ellis, last year's regulars.

Both of these rangy 6 footers have looked impressive in forward passing roles and are counted on to give the Wildcats the aerial attack so badly lacking last year. Still another sophomore quarterback, Bert Fredrick, has impressed with his defensive skill.

Improved passing will give a big boost to the running attack which is keyed around 2 dazzling halfbacks, the amazing 5-4½ Bob McKeiver and fleet Willmer Fowler, Big Ten sprint champion.

Fullback Eddie Quinn, 206-pound senior, appears ready to continue where he left off last year as one of the hardest hitting fullbacks in the Big Ten. Behind him are Jim Thompson, a converted halfback, and Jim Knowles, promising sophomore.

Four regulars from last year's stout defensive line seem headed for repeat performances. They are ends Ben Napolski and Cliff Peart, 2 rugged seniors; Al Viola, an all-conference guard last season, and Andy Cvercko, a pleasant sophomore surprise at tackle last year.

Sophomores also provide much of the replacement strength in the line. They include Doug Asad and Fred Williamson, 2 fast, mobile ends; Jim Andreotti, fine defensive center, and Pete Arena, 218 pound tackle.

St. Raymond Golf Playoffs Saturday

Semi-final playoffs for the championship of St. Raymond's golf league were played Sept. 14.

Black's Funeral Home, the first place team of league 1, defeated Moran Furs, second place team of League 2, 9-3.

The real battle of the day was between Safford Stamp works, first place team of league 2 and Meeske's, second place team of league 1. These two teams had represented the league in the Paddock tournament. Each team won 6 points and the deciding factors were low team net which Saffords won 295 to 299.

Final play offs will beat noon Saturday, Sept. 28, at Mt. Prospect C. C. and will pit the 2 first place teams against each other while the 2 second place teams will battle for third and fourth, respectively.

No Shortage of HB Talent

The 1957 Illini may not be able to match halfbacks with Illinois teams of recent years, but 3 weeks of practice have failed to reveal any real shortage of talent at the position.

Coach Ray Eliot's top 2 halfbacks, Capt. Dale Smith and Bob Mitchell, should be among the best in the conference. Replacements, while largely inexperienced, look promising.

Smith, a 26-year-old Navy veteran from Georgetown, is a fine all-around football player. He had the best rushing average on the team last year, a 5.7 yards-per-try figure, from 509 yards gained in 90 attempts.

SMITH, A 5-11, 181-pound slashing type runner, is a fine pass receiver and probably will be thrown to more, now that Abe Woodson is gone. He is a good defensive player, has one of the wickedest straight-arms in the business, and could be used as a punter, if needed.

Mitchell, currently number one left halfback, appears to be back in top condition, ready to equal his performance as a sophomore in 1955. In that year, the slippery Hot Springs, Ark. speedster set a new Big Ten rushing record of 8.3 yards-per-carry.

Mitchell injured his knee at the beginning of the 1956 season and never performed up to his potential, carrying the ball only 36 times the entire season. This year Mitchell is apparently sound. His knee has withstood several scrimmages and Bob's running has been encouraging.

ONE PLEASANT surprise of practice has been Don Grothe, Tolono (Unity) junior. Grothe, a tough 180-pounder, was a replacement for J. C. Caroline on Illinois' 1953 team. He served in the army for 2 years and appears to be a better back now than in his sophomore season. Grothe is a hard-driving, straight-ahead runner, less elusive than Mitchell. He's also a top-notch tackler.

L. T. Bonner, Zion junior, who carried the ball only twice last season, is likely to be used much more frequently this year. Bonner, also an army veteran, has always been a fine runner, and now shows signs of becoming a better defensive back.

TWO SOPHOMORE backs are highly regarded and may be used frequently later in the season. Both were all-state quarterbacks as preps.

Doug Wallace, 6-1, 180-pounder from Elgin, led the Maroons to an undefeated season in 1955. He was a halfback and quarterback with freshmen last year, but has been used exclusively at halfback this fall. He's a good passer and a good runner, and was one of the most-used ball carriers for the Varsity in the spring game against the Alumni.

Dejustice Coleman, slim 6-1 sophomore from Forrest Cit., Ark., (Lincoln), also played well in the spring game. He has been used with the second and third teams this fall. A minor leg injury has hindered him slightly in practice, but should be well before the season begins. (Sp

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

FOOTBALL SEASON on the prep front is underway with all teams having their initial test last weekend. The results indicate what may be expected the rest of the way. Palatine as an underdog, against a veteran Grayslake team, showed competitive spirit which will overcome lack of weight in the line and inexperience at key positions. The Pirates lack of reserve strength is their greatest weakness.

RICH WISNER

Opening game victory over Grayslake had Gerry Segebrecht at tackle and Dan Lemanski at fullback.

Dick Wisner played even better than expected at quarterback and Bruce King, subbing for injured Orrin Helms at center, showed ability that will keep him on the team at some position. Palatine fans and coaches can be encouraged by the opener which was witnessed by the third largest crowd in Palatine grid history. Grayslake will be a contender in the Northwest but they are not the same without Geraci, their all-state tackle of last year.

THE STRING had to end sometime. Glenbrook had gone through 26 games in a row without a setback and had taken 3 straight undefeated championships in the Northwest conference though held to a scoreless tie by Grayslake last season. Saturday North Chicago put the Spartans back in the class with the rest of the new Tri-County conference by whipping them 19-13. The Glenbrooks almost survived at that as the clincher came with 1½ minutes to play.

Glenbrook's JV team could not maintain the pace of last year and Coach Walt Sherman had said he did not have the material of other years. There is good stuff coming up but the present crop of juniors is not up to the usual standard.

Glenbrook looked slow to us. Their line was good but the backfield was not ready. North Chicago looked no better the first half but the explosive nature of the Warhawks offense was devastating in the final quarter when Glenbrook's backs failed completely on pass defense. Ron Stanczak at quarter and Jimmy Jones at right half are all-conference material at North Chicago. On one occasion Al Tinker of Glenbrook, who won the 100 yard dash title in the Northwest conference last year, broke away from the field but Jones pulled him down from behind. Jones ran the 100 in :10.3 as a soph last year and the lanky colored boy can really step.

THE PRESTIGE of the new conference had a bit of a let down as Elmwood Park lost 28-0 to Wheaton Academy, Fenton lost 25-12 to Batavia, and Lake Park dropped a 19-6 decision to Round Lake. Coach Jack Trebbie of Elmwood Park explained how Wheaton beat them and it was more by Elmwood Park errors than by Wheaton's strength. Trebbie states he is not moving any sophomores to the varsity this year as he hopes they will develop a winning spirit at the second year level and give the school a real contender the next two seasons. Elmwood Park's frosh last year whipped everything in sight, including some of the football powers of the area.

If the group remains intact as the coach plans it should annex the frosh-soph crown this season. This week Elmwood Park plays at home against Lake Park in a Tri-county league game and will be a slight favorite.

Fenton and Palatine have a heavy weekend ahead of them. Fenton plays at Mooseheart, annually one of the football powers of the state, and Palatine, on Friday night, travels to Crystal Lake to meet the North Suburban favorites who last Saturday whipped Niles 6-0. If the Pirates like being the underdog they should thrive on playing Crystal Lake Friday and Barrington the following week.

WE SAW STAN HAUSEMANN at the Glenbrook-North Chicago game. He was Palatine's fullback the year the Pirates won their only football championship in 1952. That was the year 200 Northbrook students attended Palatine high while their new building was being constructed. Three Northbrook lads played a vital part in the gridiron title and the Northbrook coach Bill Lutz had a hand in it also, assisting Dick Welty that year.

Welty had the distinction of coaching Palatine's only football champs and he retired from the sport when it was accomplished. Hausemann graduated last spring from Valparaiso University where he was a gridiron star.

Paul Lewis Jr., son of the Grant football coach, is not going out for the sport this year. His main interest is baseball and he hopes to follow in the footsteps of 2 cousins, Billy Klaus of the Boston Red Sox and Bob Klaus now a University of Illinois star. Paul Lewis Sr. is in his 18th year as coach at Grant and 5th as head football man. Grant seems to like home town coaches as Lewis played at Grant in high school and so did Dan Werhan, who directed Grant football for 16 years. Assisting Lewis is Bill Richardson, also a Grant alumnus. By the way, Grant is the dark horse and sleeper in the Northwest conference this year. They might have enough to win it all.

KEITH KINDERMAN is playing his 4th season as a regular at Crystal Lake and the 190 pound all round athlete will handle the fullback chores this season. Kinderman won the Max Brady trophy as the best all round athlete at Crystal Lake last year as a junior. Kinderman is Crystal Lake's heaviest man on a team which is light in weight but heavy on experience and football ability.

Ela-Vernon really has the big boys. Coach Bill Lehmann's varsity tackles are Jack Meyer 260 and Ron Frank 230. Meyer has a freshman brother Vernon who tips the scales at 250 but is not ready as yet for varsity competition.

Round Lake has a new coach to handle football as they enter Northwest conference competition for the first time. Ralph Lonergan was a halfback at Wisconsin in 1950 and has had 27 victories in 30 games over a 4 year period as coach at Salem Central in Wisconsin.

FOUR NORTH SUBURBAN schools have new football coaches this year including Woodstock, McHenry, Zion-Benton, and Dundee. Coach John Timmerman left Zion to coach Dundee and is installing the single wing to replace the T formation used previously there. At Zion where he was so successful with the single wing a new coach, Bob Eudeikis is bringing in the T.

Barrington has the worst home schedule in history with only 3 home games which include their 26-0 romp over West Chicago last Saturday, a league opener this coming Saturday against weak McHenry, and the homecoming game with Crytsal Lake on October 26. This last home tilt may be the one to decide the league championship, however. The Barrington schedule in their newspaper, the Courier, failed to list Libertyville and we do not know where the game with the Wildcats is played.

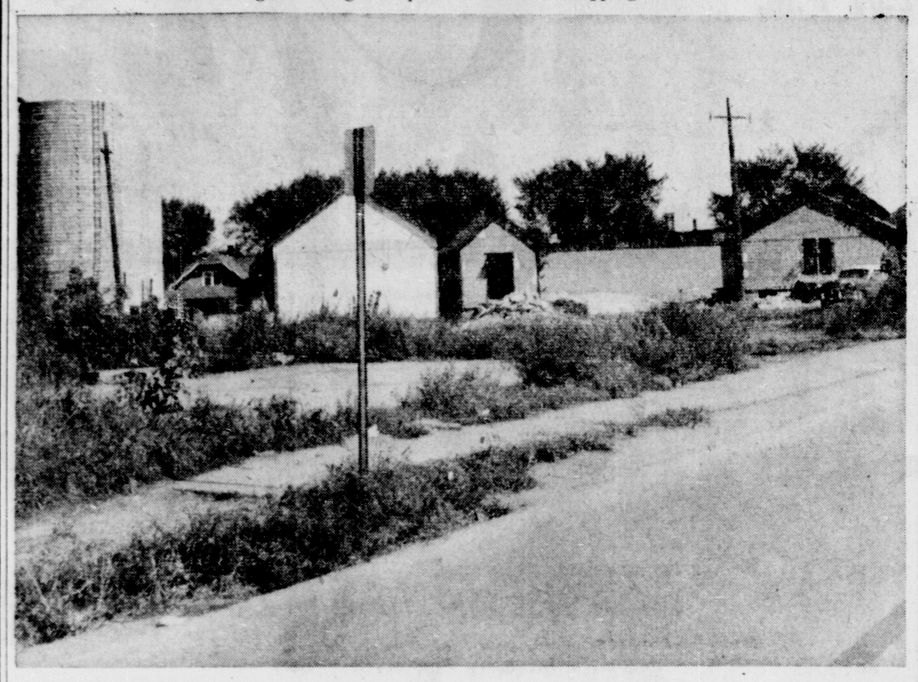
TO REACH STORES SOUTH of the railway tracks bisecting Mount Prospect from a supermarket on the north side, pedestrians must now scramble along a weed-grown path in the foreground and over the rails. A proposed downtown redevelopment plan would provide more and better connections between the two shopping areas.



DRIVERS APPROACHING the Mount Prospect business district now are presented with this view, hardly to be called inviting. If plans for downtown redevelopment are approved, a "super-block" of shops and spacious parking areas would replace the no-longer-used coal bins, frame buildings and weeds.

Arlington Pastor Helps Set Lutheran Budget

Rev. E. H. Behrens of Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, was one of the leaders of the 2,000,000 member Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod who participated in setting a 16 million-dollar budget for the church's Christian world outreach during the coming year.

Rev. Mr. Behrens was a participant in the combined visitors and fiscal conference which closed its week-long sessions at Concordia theological seminary September 11. The joint meeting drew 700 men from the 32 North American districts of the church body.

Following consideration of the Christian Church's ministry to the world and to itself and its own members, the men completed their study of the work of the Missouri Synod's departments and agencies by deciding on a budget which represents a 12.6 per cent rise over last year's budget of $14,200,000.

The amount allocated for expenditures on the synodical level is over and above money given by synod Christians for work on the congregational and district level, and represents an average of 11½ dollars per communicant member, Henry W. Buck of Kansas City, Mo., chairman of the synod's budget committee, said.

Largest allocations were made for education and missions, with $6,240,000 going for the synod's mission outreach in the United States and Canada, in numerous foreign countries, work with the deaf and blind, and other mission endeavors.

Education of the Christian in the parish, stewardship and missionary education, youth work, and education of teachers for the synod's extensive system of parish schools and ministers for the church's 5,000 congregations drew an allocation which, combined, amounts to $6,860,000.

Merchants, Officials Join To Revamp Mount Prospect

Businessmen and public officials are uniting their efforts to revamp Mt. Prospect's central business area into a community shopping center capable of serving a population of 25,000.

Vacation of streets would provide "super-block" areas. New retail stores and services would be added to furnish complete shopping facilities.

OFF-STREET parking for 2000 cars, 10 times the number of parking stalls now available, would be provided, and commuter parking areas would be doubled.

The downtown area would become a shopper's paradise, with an easy flow of pedestrian traffic from store to store.

The existing 4 sectors of the central business area would be connected with walks and an arcade type of overpass lined with small shops would link the north and south sides of the railroad.

The redevelopment program is the first recommendation of Evert Kincaid and Associates, employed by the village to draw up a new master plan for the fast growing community.

ECONOMIC STUDIES indicate of the 25 acres in the central business area, nearly 2 acres are used for purposes not normally found in a community shopping center. There are 10 acres of street area, and about 5 acres of vacant property.

The redevelopment plan is to vacate much of the street area, eliminating hazardous angle intersections and converting the space into parking.

New business enterprises would be attracted to replace the present non-retail uses and new shops would fill the vacant area.

THE CITY PLANNERS suggest the redevelopment in 3 stages, but their plan is flexible and more or less can be accomplished at one time, without upsetting the ultimate completion of the plan.

Execution of the plan calls for cooperation of the village and private capital.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Man's God-given dominion over disease and discord will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday, September 22.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" is the Golden Text from I John (2:15): "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (381: 20-21): "Think less of the enactments of mortal mind, and you will sooner grasp man's God-given dominion."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Romans (8:5): "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit."

FREEDOM FROM THIRST FOR ALCOHOL

On Sunday, Sept. 22, on the regular television series, "How Christian Science Heals," 2 people who used to be addicted to alcohol tell how they got rid of this problem and how their characters were regenerated by learning about God's power and love. This program, seen on channel 7, shows how unsatisfied cravings, frustration and self-condemnation can be overcome.

The radio program of the same name can be heard each Sunday over station WNMP (1590 kc.) at 9:15 a.m. and station WAIT (820 kc.) at 8:30 a.m. This coming Sunday, Sept. 22, the title of the program is "Go Above the Mist!", in which a woman from Fort Worth, Texas, tells how she overcame insecurity, unhappiness and overweight — through prayer alone.

THE FOUNDATION OF THE UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

People ask, what is the Universalist Church? They wonder about the purposes and beliefs of a liberal, creedless church. Here is a brief answer:

UNIVERSALIST CHURCHES ARE FOUNDED UPON:

- Individual freedom of belief;
- Devotion to advancing truth;
- The democratic process in all human relations;
- Universal brotherhood, undivided by nation, race, or creed;
- Allegiance to the cause of a united world community;
- Belief in the presence in the universe of a moral and spiritual power which some call God, some say comes from God, and others leave nameless.

Arlington Barber Shop Singers Start Fall Term

The fall activities of the Arlington Heights (SPEBSQSA) Barber Shop Chorus started Monday evening with several hours of enthusiastic singing by all in attendance.

President John Roberts outlined the plans for the forthcoming months. Most important date on the chapter's calendar is the seventh annual "Night of Harmony" that will be presented Nov. 23, 1957 at Arlington high school.

DIRECTOR CHUCK Lukes presented a tentative program for the show and from the reception it received from the members a good time will be had by both audience and singers.

Although the chorus membership has grown steadily since it's organization 7 years ago, new voices are needed, especially baritones. To sing in the chorus it is not necessary to have a solo voice. The only requirement is that a person likes to sing or would like to learn how to sing the old songs that mother and dad sung when they were young. No auditions are held.

Men who enjoy Barber Shop Chorus and Quartet singing are invited to attend the meetings held every Monday at 8:15 p.m. The next meeting and show rehearsal will be held at Arlington field house. For further information, call Bob MacAskill CL 5-1797. (AMP

$3 Million in New Homes Sold at Winston Opening

One hundred-forty seven homes, valued at more than $3,000,000, were sold during the grand opening of Palatine's newest subdivision, Winston Park, Saturday and Sunday, Robert Richards sales manager, reported Monday.

"The grand opening of our 5 models were well received by the public and we are more than happy," Richards commented.

"APPROXIMATELY 15,000 persons went through our homes during the weekend." Richards said. "By actual count, 5,000 saw the models Saturday and 10,000 Sunday."

Of the 47 homes sold, 82 already have picked their site from among the 559 homes to be built in unit No. 1 running north of Palatine rd. between Wilke rd. and Salt creek. The homes are expected to be completed for occupancy by the middle of next year.

FORMAL OPENING ceremonies for the $5,000,000 residential, shopping center and industrial park development were held Friday night when village and civic officals lauded the huge undertaking.

PRESIDENT OLSEN said he remembers when Palatine had only 2,500 residents in 1940. Now it has 8,000 people and he envisions how much larger Palatine will become with Winston's 1,900 homes. He believes the future growth of the village will be orderly and well organized.

Moreland remarked that the FHA has examined the land and that it is high and properly drained. He added that Winston Park will be a fine addition to Palatine and the northwest suburbs.

Moreland remarked that he has known Winston-Muss since 1953 when they opened a subdivision in Waukegan. That subdivision had a great deal to due with the growth of Waukegan, he remarked.

NELSON WELCOMED Winston to Palatine on behalf of the chamber of commerce and presented a membership in the chamber to Everett Dahlquist, vice president in charge of construction.

Richards Monday announced that the sales office will remain open from 9 a.m to 8 p.m. daily to serve the public until winter sets in. (B8

'Vista Alegre' Porcelain Proud of Rich Tradition

At Derigo Fine Table Appointments, 170 W. Milwaukee, Wheeling, Vista Allegre is one of the fine chinas displayed.

Inland a few miles from the scenic coast of Portugal is an old, old town of tradition and romance — the town of Viste Alegre. From this place comes the lovely Vista Alegre china dinnerware that graces so many well-appointed tables in America today.

NEAR VISTA ALEGRE in 1824, Jose Ferreira Pinto Basto came upon a clay of a most unusual whiteness. Upon discovering the abundance of this superb clay and with forests close by to furnish firewood for kilns, he founded the Vista Alegre factory.

Since then the Vista Alegre factory has been in the hands of the Pinta Basto family. A fierce family pride has kept craftsmanship and quality at a high level throughout successive generations. King Dom Miguel I conferred the title "Royal" upon the factory. Today many of the world's foremost museums are proud to display treasured pieces of Vista Alegre.

IN 1952 for the first time in the factory's history, production facilities made it possible to offer this beautiful china dinnerware in the United States. It is a blend of the finest in American design with the loveliest in Portuguese ceramics. The patterns harmonize with either traditional or modern in table decor.

Your eye is caught first by the snowy whiteness of the china, but the great beauty of the hand decorated designs will also delight you. The lovely colors are hand-painted by skilled craftsmen; all decorations are enriched with coin gold, burnished by hand. A Chinese paste body of palest gray-blue has been chosen for the most unusual patterns because of the Oriental culture that inspired them. You will find Vista Alegre in 3 classic shapes — plain, fluted and spiral.

Those who own Vista Alegre may well take pride in its distinctive beauty and the superlative craftsmanship that assures years and years of service. (DL

Blase; insensible to pleasure because of excessive indulgence. (Pronounce blah-zay, accent second syllable). "His blase manner revealed extreme boredom."

Facsimile; exact copy. "You may send us a facsimile of this magazine cover, if you wish."

New Realty Firm Is Opened Here

Two prominent figures in northwest suburban realty circles have formed a new real estate and insurance firm in Arlington Heights.

Carl M. Behrens and John H. Kehe, both former presidents of the local chamber of commerce, have opened an office under their names at 205 S. State rd., Arlington Heights. They have purchased a building there with 7,800 square feet of floor space. It is now undergoing extensive remodeling and will have offices available for leasing.

BEHRENS for the past 12 years engaged in a similar business under the name of C. M. Behrens and Co. He is a past director of the Northwest Suburban Real Estate board and a past treasurer of the area's multiple listing service. He is also a director of Family Service association, Wheeling township justice of peace and member of the Elks and Lions.

Kehe is active in the local Rotary club and has owned Webber Paint Co. in Arlington Heights for 10 years. He formerly was with Bell Savings and Loan association of Chicago and later with local real estate brokers Krause and Kehe. (BB

Hannifin Corp. Has New Owners

The Hannifin corp. of Des Plaines has entered into an agreement whereby Parker appliance co. of Cleveland will purchase $7,500,000 of its stock.

To all outward appearances, there will be no change in the Hannifin corp, which employs 500 people. There will be no change in the top management, the personnel, nor the line of products.

ELWOOD G. Peterson, president of Hannifin, notified the local employees Monday of the change in stock in a 2-page letter.

Peterson said, "Hannifin will continue to operate as an independent company with the same officers as before and with everyone occupying his or her present position. It has been indicated that the parent company may change its name from Parker Appliance to Parker-Hannifin to take advantage of our long established reputation.

"In a sense, this new alliance is a culmination of a long and persistent record of progress and expansion for Hannifin. As most of us appreciate, our name has become widely recognized over the years.

"WE'VE EARNED a reputation that identifies us as a strong and progressive contender in our field. Now we believe that this alliance will bring us greater diversification, greater security, and with the proposed new products now possible, new and larger long-range opportunities."

Parker makes products used to control or confine the flow of liquids, gas or air under pressure. Hannifin manufactures hydraulic and air power cylinders and presses, control valves, and filters and pressure regulators.

Skokie Leads Area In Motor Fuel Tax

Skokie led among northwest villages collecting state checks as their share of the motor fuel tax paid in August.

This was announced Friday by Morton H. Hollingsworth, state finance director.

Skokie received $21,710. Des Plaines was second receiving $14,072.

Third place went to Park Ridge with $13,617.

Evanston led the North Shore with $36,996.

Arlington Heights, Niles, Morton Grove, Lincolnwood and Golf were not listed among the 151 Illinois cities allowed their share of the tax. (BB

Select Name For Hanover Development

Woodland Heights has been selected as the official name of a recently announced $125 million "city of homes," according to Morris Dreyfus, president of Streamwood Home Builders, Inc.

Dreyfus said the selection is based upon the beautiful park-like quality provided for in the new city's projected plans. A 100-foot wide main avenue cutting through Woodland Heights will be known as Park boulevard.

APPROXIMATELY 6000 homes in the $13,500 to $17,500 price range are contemplated in an area extending approximately 3,000 acres east of Bartlett rd. and north of U.S. 20 northwest in Cook County.

Plans call for schools and parks, for carefully integrated architectural designs for churches of all denominations, for commerce and industry.

No one takes the time or spends the money to build a home such as this fine "Tackett-built" 3-bedroom 1½ ceramic bath in beautiful Scarsdale. Two fireplaces, paneled play room. Such charm and grace at $32,750 is hard to find.

plus an enormous kitchen and 3 large bedrooms and a 10 x 12 den. At $25,900 we feel few homes can offer the location, the size, or appeal that this luxurious home offers. The full basement is heated. Take a few minutes to see this lovely Mt. Prospect home.

ANOTHER OF THE major industries in the northwest suburban area, the Bowman Dairy Company, joined the many other industries who have expressed their support of the Northwest Community Hospital center in both words and dollars when they recently announced a pledge of $1,500 to the hospital fund.

Present when the gift was announced were the officials of the daily company and of the hospital board, as shown above, from left to right: Harold Rose, secretary of the hospital board of trustees; Josph J. Riebandt, Bowman Dairy supervisor; N. M. Lattof, hospital board president, and John J. Curtin, division manager of the dairy.

November 30 'Hoe Down' To Boost Hospital Fund

Several hundred square dancers from northwest suburbs will join in an evening of hoe down and hospital service when they hold a benefit dance for the Northwest Community Hospital Center on Saturday night, November 30, in the girls' gymnasium of Arlington high school.

Fred Martin, of the Arlington Heights Square Dance club, is serving as chairman of the event, and he has announced that it will be a gala square dance jamboree in truth with square dance callers from throughout this area already having offered their services free for the hospital benefit affair.

DON FINFROCK, of Palatine, has been active in lining up the popular figure callers who will participate. Among those who have arranged to be present are Bing Bengson, Bill Clarke, Curly Crane, Frank Green, Bill Johnson, Walter Meier, Tom Powers, Clarence Preusen, Bob Schmid, Bill Shymkus, Ollie Smejkal, C. H. Taylor, and Finfrock himself.

The square dance is one of the many events being planned and sponsored by public-spirited citizens anxious to swell the funds of the future Northwest Community Hospital Center.

N. M. Lattof, chiarman of the hospital board of trustees, said that the square dance jamboree has the important function of raising additional hundreds of dollars for the hospital and, at the same time, reminding other citizens that their own functions — as well as their personal pledges — can help make the hospital an actual, functioning health center very soon. Mr. Lattof asks that persons interested in sponsoring public events to support the hospital call him or the hospital headquarters on Northwest hwy.

ALL SQUARE dance enthusiasts in the Northwest communities are urged to set aside the hospital square dance jamboree.

For information, or for tickets, they are invited to call any of the following committee members: Dave Brooke, CL 3-7839; Howard Lips, CL 3-0211; Fred Martin, CL 3-3362; Jim Moore, CL 3-2822 or Ed Smith, CL 3-0251. (B8

Team Planning Can Prevent Suburban Slums: Builder

"Smooth-working teams of specialists are the home-building industry's answer to the threat of suburban slums."

This is the belief of Donald L. Huber, a 25-year-old builder who heads such a building team, Hasbrook Construction co., now erecting 532 homes in Arlington Heights.

"Chicago and other cities are already paying heavily to get rid of slums which planning could have prevented," he said. To avoid making the same mistake, the builder today must anticipate the problems that new home construction can create in a community.

"WHEN YOU BUILD several hundred homes at a time, you have a tremendous community responsibility. You can't afford to leave things to chance. One slip can jeopardize the entire development and plant the seeds of a future slum."

As the financial backer of the Hasbrook team, Huber has put his local operation in the hands of capable lawyers, architects, engineers, land planners and hardheaded businessmen.

This is the same procedure he has followed in building over 4,000 homes in the past 4 years in Dayton, Ohio, and Indianapolis, Indiana.

"HOME BUILDING is too complicated today for one man to do everything," Huber said. "Twenty or 30 years ago, it was possible for an itinerant builder to build two or three homes here, a few more there, and then move on. His only concern was the house. The community took care of any problems that arose later on."

Today, economic conditions have all but eliminated such building practices. Instead, they have fostered the development of the mass builder and his team.

"Large scale volume building is almost a necessity," Huber said. "Since World War II, rising costs of materials, land and labor have sent home prices soaring 60 per cent. The only way to hold down prices is to build in quantity, taking advantage of mass purchasing and assembly line building methods.

"But when you do this, you can't concern yourself only with the house. You have to plan for streets, sanitary facilities, schools, parks, and everything else that makes up a community. The villages themselves can't absorb the increased load without help and planning."

ALTHOUGH Huber is chairman of Hasbrook, his management team is composed largely of Chicagoland people who have lived and worked in this area many years.

"They are in effect building in their own home town and have a deep sense of community responsibility," he said.

One of the most important things the mass builder must provide is flexibility and adaptability, he said.

"Put another way, this means that a development that's good for a northern Chicago suburb may not be good for a suburb on the South side." It takes a good insight into local problems to plan construction effectively.

THE HOMES themselves were designed by the Chicago architectural firm of Fitch, Schiller and Frank, a young group of architects who have gained prominence for designing low price homes for mass construction without sacrificing individual features.

The Hasbrook development was laid out by Evert Kincaid & Associates. This land planning firm preserved the natural contours of the rolling 180-acre plot for beauty's sake and to maintain natural drainage. Curving streets with numerous dead ends were laid out to provide safety for children and to avoid monotony.

"One of the biggest problems in a residential development is sanitation disposal facilities and storm protection," Huber said.

HASBROOK called in a staff of engineering experts, Consoer Townsend & Associates, to tackle this drainage problem. After intensive study, the engineering firm recommended a 14-acre park with a 3½ foot deep pond in its center for flood relief.

According to surveys conducted by the firm, the half-acre storm basin will fill to capacity only once in ten years. This will represent a significant improvement in the Arlington Height drainage system.

Northwest Area Building Lagging Behind 1955-56

The auto industry's lament that "there'll never be another year like 1955" can also be applied to the housing industry.

Building figures for the first 8 months of 1957 show that the number of homes to be started in Chicago and suburbs this year will lag far behind both 1955 and 1956 totals.

CONSTRUCTION in the northwest suburbs has, however, held up better this year than in other parts of the Chicago metropolitan area.

The reason lies in the start of Elk Grove village, a projected 6,000-home development, 4 months ago. With 325 homes begun during the summer, Elk Grove is fourth among all suburbs in number of homes and in total valuations so far this year.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS was the scene of much activity in August. Start of 41 homes with a permit value of $761,750 brought the 1957 total to 264 homes.

Last year 386 residences were started in the corresponding period, indicating that the building level has dipped by about one-third in Arlington.

The 1956 pace in Arlington was in turn 11 per cent lower than in the previous year. Last year less than 100 permits were sold in the final third of the year. If this is repeated in 1957, the yearly total this time will be the lowest in the 1950's.

FOURTH-RANKED Elk Grove village led the northwest area during the first 8 months this year, followed by Arlington in fifth and Mount Prospect in ninth, with 229 home permits.

Complete August home permit totals, according to the monthly report of Bell Savings and Loan association:

REAL ESTATE — MORTGAGE LOANS — INSURANCE

Apply this test to your Insurance needs....

The kinds of insurance that you need most are those that will protect you against the largest single losses that you or your business could sustain. In other words, if you are investing a substantial sum in premiums for insurance protection, you should have, first of all, the contracts that will protect you against a possible loss of thousands of dollars rather than a loss of a few dollars, because a large loss might wipe out your bank account — necessitate a sale of securities and real estate, or bankrupt you and your business.

There is a plan of insurance that will best meet your requirements.

Only with the advice and council of an agent or broker familiar with available insurance coverage can a logical plan of protection be developed.

We would welcome the opportunity to meet with you and analyze your insurance requirements.

Awarded Honor For Citizenship

FERD BLOHM

Ferdinand Blohm, 114 E. Fairview, Arlington Heights, was presented a Good Citizenship Award Tuesday, as a part of the special activities of "Good Citizenship Day" proclaimed by President Eisenhower.

Blohm has frequently offered his services in welfare campaigns, serving by door to door canvasses. (BB

ROBERT HAYES

Robert Hayes, 2300 Park st., Rolling Meadows, was presented a Good Citizenship Award Tuesday as a part of the special activities of "Good Citizenship Day" proclaimed by President Eisenhower.

Hayes, manager of the Jewel Tea supermarket won his award in a nationwide program sponsored by the National Association of Food Chains. He was in competition with other managers all over the country for this distinctive honor. The award, an engraved, hand-lettered certificate signed by John A. * * *

ALTHOUGH OPERATING a modern food store is a big responsibility in itself. Hayes still believes that a person has a responsibility to contribute something of himself to the life of a community. He attends PTA meetings at the Kimball school, chamber of commerce meetings, and is active during voting time in getting out the vote.

Magic Carpet to Mexico

Arlington Heights Coed Tells Summer Adventure

by KAREN LACINA
(First in a series)

University City, which is located on the southern outskirts of Mexico City and which is noted in all tourist guide books as one of the "sights" to see in Mexico, is really not as new as many people think.

As early as July 25, 1935, the University was granted a charter by the town of Toro, Spain, and signed by Charles V. It was given plots of land and the first faculties — those of Theology and Law — were instituted.

By 1833 the University as a whole had disappeared due to a halt in educational advancement during the revolutionary years of the nineteenth century. The University was officially reopened in 1910 and took the name "Universidad Nacional Autonomous de Mexico (UNAM)" as it is known today. Although it still follows the old traditions, it is not governed by the Church as it had been before the revolution.

IN 1950, the University moved its site to 1,800 acres of an old lava bed where a completely new campus was built, including separate buildings for each faculty and college as well as student conveniences, such as a bank, post office, telegraph office, book store, and a central cafeteria, and is now called University City.

It was reconstructed in an artistic fashion consisting of mosaics, murals and extraordinary landscaping. The various faculties and colleges are arranged in a large circle (excluding the huge stadium) with magnificent swimming pool, fronton courts, and other athletic facilities.

Almost every building is artistically decorated by at least one mural which was done by a foremost contemporary Mexican artist such as Diego Rivera.

THE CAMPUS, in general, is well kept by a staff of gardeners who plant trees in the right places, trim the hedges, and cultivate the flowers, as well as cutting acres of grass. It was rather difficult at first for this North American to pay complete attention in class when just outside the window lay this beautiful and different campus.

Life at University City was fun as well as trying at times. We went to class from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. 5 days a week, but this time schedule was different from that of the regular university students since we were enrolled in the "summer school for foreigners."

Classes and teachers were the same as at any university in the United States, for you could find an interesting class as well as a boring one, a very intelligent and interesting professor as well as an intelligent and boring professor. The teacher-student ratio was very high — one professor to every 8½ students. Of course, the one big difference that we noticed was that the majority of our classes were taught in Spanish instead of in English, but we soon adjusted to that.

SINCE UNIVERSITY City is rather new and very few women go on to higher education in Mexico, I would not even venture a guess as to the "men-women" ratio.

This is one of the aspects which proved a bit trying to our little group of five American girls, for it was impossible to walk across the campus by yourself. The Mexican fellows always seemed to think we were lost or needed some kind of help and insisted on escorting us everywhere.

In fact, they were all quite eager to show us all of Mexico City, too. After the first 2 weeks of school though, this "something" new and different wore off a bit, and the fellows — at least most of them — went back to their books and became much more involved in school elections.

I HOLD MY one term of study at the very cosmopolitan Ciudad Universitaria as a valuable part of my education, and encourage any of you who have the slightest urge to go to Mexico to go on a study trip.

It is possible to study as well as see the sights of Mexico, and I certainly think that my courses at the University helped me to appreciate the other things I saw.

AN ARTIST depicts Bing Crosby with Inger Stevens and Mary Fickett, right, the 2 women who play a vital part in "Man on Fire," stirring drama of divorce, which gives Crosby his first straight acting assignment without song. Both actresses, who have achieved stage and television prominence, make their film debuts in the new production opening Sunday at the Catlow theatre in suburban Barrington.

Talking About Education Costs

A Fundamental Lesson In School Arithmetic

by WILLIAM McGILL

In the "dear old golden rule days" there was "readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic" which we hope was taught, whether to the tune of the hickory stick or not.

When it comes to talking about the cost of education today, there is nothing so necessary as a familiarity with arithmetic.

THE OTHER NIGHT, T. C. Powers, chairman of the planning commission of Lake Zurich, introduced a group of planning commissioners to a fundamental lesson in arithmetic, somewhat as follows:

1) Find the number of homes within the school district; 2) find the number of children enrolled in the school; 3) divide the number of children into the number of homes to get children per home;

4) Find the school district budget, this may be divided according to educational fund and building fund, or they may be combined; 5) Find the amount of state aid received by the school district; 6) Subtract state aid from the budget and divide by the number of children to get cash dollars per child from taxation within the district.

EXAMPLE: Most of these facts may be ascertained from the office of the board of education. Say, there are 2,000 homes in the district and 2,000 children enrolled, then 3) is 1 child per home; say, the district's budget is $550,000, and there is $200,000 in state aid, then 6) is $175 per child.

To proceed: 7) Ascertain the tax rate, either for the separate funds or the combined budget as indicated in 4); 8) Find the total residential valuation of the property in the school district, divide by the number of homes to obtain the average residential valuation (file somewhere in the back of your mind the fact that valuation is probably 40 per cent of value); 9) Multiply this average valuation by the tax rate to obtain cash dollars received per home.

Example: Assuming the maximum educational levy of $1.25 per $100 of valuation and $.25 for building fund, we would have $1.50 per $100; say, the average valuation is $7,500 (this may be high for many communities, low for a few school districts); but this would give us $112.50 per home for educational and building expenses.

TO PROCEED: 10) Compare 3) children per home with 6 cash dollars per child and 9) cash dollars per home. In our example we have 1 child from each home costing the school $175 while that home contributes $112.50. The deficit, therefore, is $62.50; if we are to assume a balanced budget this must come from non-residential real property or personal property.

Now, 11) Divide the deficit per child by the tax rate to get the valuation of non-residential property needed to balance the budget. In the example, this comes to about $4,100. In a district where there is an average of 1 child per home with a relatively high average valuation per home, it might be possible to balance the budget with 65 per cent of the real property being residential property.

If, however, the average children per home in the district's schools should be 1.5 (which is more realistic), the deficit jumps to $150 per home, and the needed non-residential valuation jumps to $19,000 for each $7,500 of residential valuation. The percentages shift from 65 per cent residential—35 per cent non-residential to 43 per cent residential—67 per cent non-residential. Two children per home would raise the deficit per child to $237.50, and drop the residential percentage to 32.

THESE ARE important implications here for anyone concerned with community administration or planning, for school board and PTA members, for tax-paying citizens and for community developers.

But it all starts with 6 facts (1), 2), 4), 5), 7, 8), pencil and paper and arithmetic. These facts are probably at your local office of education.

What's the matter with Sears, Roebuck & Company's wonderful, guaranteed 7 per cent bonds. We understand that the most of them were unloaded on farmers, many of whom had deposits with the catalog house. Really good stock, drawing 7 per cent in these glorious times it would seem ought not to be reported weak and lower. A firm that drops a quarter million business in a month, must be ailing. A house built upon shifting sands should be watched closely.

Miss Alma Louise Storch, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Storch and Mr. Paul Louis Busse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Schwartz were united in marriage at the Presbyterian manse September 20.

What a feeling it must be for some young men in our section who may have read of the activities of investigation of the government agents regarding efforts to evade service. While in many instances their claims are of a worthy nature others savor of cowardice in failure to respond to that chord of love or of country that should be uppermost in the breast of every real American lad. In some cases it is the fault of the father or mother who has in the family circle instilled a feeling of anti-Americanism. What a rebuff is in store for the young man, now physically fit, with no excuse whatever for failure to respond to his country's call. Wait until he later meets his former pals back from the front, what living death he will then experience.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS— — Editor Paddock will soon join the progress procession — enlarge the Herald-Register printing office, build a granite face front with plate glass windows and brown stucco like Otto Landmeier's on the sides.

The Peter Mors Bakery and the Emil Sieburg Market have joined the progressives lowering the floor and building entire new store fronts with large plate glass and ornamental stucco walls.

Mr. Louis Schultz was born in Long Grove, 1867. Death claimed Mr. Schultz September 12, aged 50 years. Nearly everyone in Palatine familiarly called him Louis. He had erected a beautiful new home in the center of town and was looking forward with great pleasure to many happy days therein.

One of the finest times ever had in Bloomingdale was at the Amusement Parlors September 18 for the drafted boys from town: Wm. Krueger, Henry Grupe, Louis Hoppe, B. Giesfelt and Hockmeister. Cards and pool were enjoyed besides dancing with first-class music.

The police department thru its chief, Trustee Oltendorf in an interview stated that he would not order out the slot machines unless the majority of the people of Palatine so expressed themselves. He takes the stand that the operation of slot machines is part of the regular business of the houses in which they are operated and there are no reasons why the police should interfere. He was aware of the payment of the protection money, which has been placed in a special fund for use of a new fire truck for Palatine.

The Way We See It

County Should Ban Tollway Billboards, 'Spectaculars'

Advertising signs—billboards, "spectaculars," and the like—will be banned within 300 feet of the Illinois tollways in Kane county as a result of unanimous action taken last week by the Kane county board of supervisors.

The Illinois State Toll Highway commission has launched a program to obtain county zoning ordinances banning billboards throughout the 198-mile tollway.

Austin L. Wyman, chairman of the commission, said that commission members were deeply appreciative of the action taken in Kane county which will contribute to the safety of tollway patrons as well as increase the aesthetic appeal of the tollway.

"Since the Kane county restriction on billboards applies as well to all limited access highways, now in existence or to be built in the future, the action taken is of benefit to the entire county."

The prohibition was in the form of an amendment to Kane county's zoning ordinance and was recommended by the county zoning board of appeals.

The amendment provides that along all limited access highways, the minimum set-back for advertising signs and billboards not connected with products sold in the business then being conducted on the premises and not advertising for sale the premises on which they are displayed, shall be 300 feet from the right-of-way line.

The toll highway commission previously had sponsored a bill in the state legislature to prohibit billboards along the tollways. The bill had been defeated in Springfield and, as a result, the commission turned to the individual counties involved.

The commission will confer shortly with Cook county officials to seek similar safeguards. The merits of such restrictions should be obvious, and it is to be hoped that Cook county's board of commissioners will follow the splendid example set by their Kane county colleagues.

Deadline for State Aid: 9 Days

Jammed Schools Can Secure Help from $10 Million Fund

by BOB BUCHANAN

A grade school district using every available room, stuffing more than 35 pupils in a room, possessing less than $5,000 bonding power, and cramming in new children every day, stands an excellent chance of securing part of $10,000,000 the state legislature made available this summer.

However, school boards whose classroom capacities are critical must make application to State Superintendent of Public Instruction Vernon L. Nickell in Springfield within the next 9 days.

ON SATURDAY, Sept. 28, the original 90-day period for schools seeking aid will expire. Schools who have aid requests placed with the Illinois School Building commission secretary, Nickell, will get primary consideration. If any money, which was appropriated for the 2-year biennium ending June 30, 1959 remains, applications will be handled according to the date received after September 28.

It is still possible for school districts to acquire funds even though the number of pupils is not at the 35 maximum if they can prove that the growth trend will cause the school population to exceed 35 per room within the next 5 years and at the same time exhaust bonding power.

Also the 5-man school building committee, which was part of house bills 881 and 882, will take into consideration any large scale housing projects and the inability of private schools to expand any further in determing public school building needs.

DISTRICTS ELIGIBLE to apply will be for grades 1 through 8. Kindergarten and high school classes will not be taken into consideration.

To be eligible, a district must have 110 pupils and show requirements to have at least that many students for the next 5 years.

It also must have bonding power less than $5,000 or will have done so in complying with provisions of the article. Should a district have a higher bonding power the commission requires the district to authorize bond issues and sell bonds with the proceeds going to reimburse the state for costs of movable equipment and the remainder to be applied as rent in addition to first year rental costs.

WHEN A DISTRICT complies plies with the provisions of bill 881, the school district must levy a special tax for rent or contingent upon passage by the voters withn 45 days. Bill 882 set up this provision.

Next week Paddock Publications' article will discuss the cost of construction limitations and the rental costs a district must pay for the aid.

Clarifies School Misconceptions

In view of the statements made in recent letters to the Fence Post, I feel that it is desirable, on behalf of the Board of Education of District 25, to lay to rest some of the incorrect assumptions that may have arisen from these letters.

These letters call attention to an ariticle in the September issue of the Reader's Digest relating to the cost of school buildings and giving certain cost figures for school buildings that have been erected in various parts of the country. The letters imply that the buildings in our community are far too costly as compared with the cost figures quoted with approval by the author of the Reader's Digest article. The author of the Reader's Digest article approved the building of a fourteen room school at a cost of $28,000 per classroom.

Our cost calculations show that the Dryden school cost $27,930 per classroom, $850 per pupil and $15.40 per square foot. The Westgate school cost $25,545 per classroom, $730 per pupil and $15.30 per square foot. The Park and Ridge schools (a total of thirty-one classrooms) cost $20,900 per classroom, $620 per pupil and $12.70 per square foot.

The foregoing figures apply to elementary schools and cover the grades from kindergarten through fifth grade. This appears to be the type of school referred to by the author of the article in Reader's Digest. A junior high school, such as Miner Junior high school, costs somewhat more, due to the fact that it has a number of facilities which are not strictly classroom facilities. Also, the gymnasium, cafeteria, kitchen, locker rooms and showers are sized for an eventual enrollment of 900 students. Our Miner school now provides for both lower grade and junior high school students and has facilities to take care of 540 students. The average cost per classroom is $32,710 and the cost per square foot is $14.10.

All of our schools are built with the idea that they will be expanded, and the additional heating requirements which are provided initially to take care of the further expansion make the initial costs somewhat higher per classroom than the final overall costs after the additions have been made. Our Miner school is adapted to be expanded to take care of 900 students as a junior high school and when this expansion is made, the cost per classroom should be substantially less than at present. The Park and Ridge schools are examples of schools where the expansion has been substantially completed.

Many of the features which seem to be approved by the author of the Reader's Digest article, such as concrete block partition walls, are incorporated into our schools. We feel that we have built our schools so that they are adequate to take care of the needs of this community and will last for many years. In building the schools, we took into consideration the needs of the students and the teachers. At the same time we tried to provide a minimum cost of upkeep. Some people seem to think that because a school looks good it must have cost too much. The foregoing figures show the error of this type of reasoning. It would have been better if some of the Fence Post critics had examined the schools a little more carefully and found out the cost figures before making statements that cannot help but raise false implications.

The newcomers to this community, many of whom have moved here because of the schools, should be proud of the schools and use every effort to help to maintain the system that others have provided for them. Those members of the community who have no children or whose children are past school age should realize that good schools assist in maintaining their property values.

As a citizen of this community for 18 years and a member of the Board of Education for almost 6 years, I feel that our school buildings and educational system are second to none. I also feel that this is the way the citizens of the community would like to have them.

Richard L. Johnston, President

Thankful for Arlington Heights

This past week we took our 18 year old to college and as we returned we reviewed the many things for which we had to be thankful.

We are truly grateful for all the advantages and fine experiences our young student has had. To the community we owe much and wish to say, Thank you Arlington Heights—for the outstanding school program and facilities which have been provided—for the beautiful Parks and recreational program—for the fine church and youth groups—

for the many interested community citizens, past and present who have given of their time that these opportunities might be available—for the wonderful group of teen age friends and for the parents of those young people who have given so much of their time and devotion—and to Mr. Paddock for his far sighted interest in the youth of Arlington Heights and in the improvement and growth of this community.

I am sure he can claim in no small measure the credit for many of these excellent facilities. His paper has informed and encouraged the citizens of this city to move forward. May none of us cease to be interested in the small children who are now trodding along their way and may they be assured of the same community interest.

A Kick Out of Wood Dale

I get a kick out of the new Wood Dale order, regarding the changing of house addresses. We would be the laughing stock of all DuPage county incorporated localities. Why change Wood Dale numbers until Wheaton, Elmhurst and other progressive towns have done so?

The numerals as mentioned are similar to call letters of ham radio operator stations. Strangers could get the impression this is a town of radio operators. Who cares how far north you are from Madison st. or how far west you are from State st., Chicago.

Still, Birds of a Feather . . .

In a recent issue, you seemed horrified by the thought that like-minded people could offer each other nothing. My advice to you is to lose no sleep over the matter. Contrary to what you seem to think, the world is not one big cocktail party with everyone a brilliant intellectual discussing shades of opinion on art, music, politics, etc.

People of the same mind naturally gravitate to each other. If this were not true, how do you explain the existence of such organizations as clubs, lodges, unions, etc.? Birds of a feather still flock together, and always will.

Hospital Planner Tells Proposals to Auxiliary

The September meeting of the Northwest Community hospital Center women's auxiliary was held last Wednesday in Pioneer Park field house, Arlington Heights.

Slides and plans of the proposed hospital building were shown by Ross Garrett, hospital consultant. Garrett, who has served as advisor on more than 100 hospital governing boards, has worked with architects in the designing of the Northwest Community hospital center.

NURSES FROM the various nurses' clubs in the area were invited to the meeting as special guests.

A nominating committee was elected by the auxiliary members present. Six members from the general membership were elected to serve with 3 members yet to be chosen by the auxiliary board of directors.

Elected from the general membership were Mrs. Eldon Simpson, Barrington township; Mrs. Robert Lambert, Des Plaines; Mrs. William McGuire, Elk Grove township; Mrs. Irving Brunstrom, Palatine township; Mrs. Seymour Footlik, Schaumburg township; and Mrs. Melvin Kurtz, Wheeling township.

THE MEMBERS present approved plans for a spring fundraising event. The auxiliary has tentatively scheduled a "pancake party" to be held on the Friday and Saturday, following Easter.

Garrett explained in detail each phase of the hospital plan shown on enlarged slides. For the first time, the new hospital exterior sketch was shown publicly. Garrett stressed new plans for the hospital building and furnishings would be viewed by members of the auxiliary before release to the general public.

SOME OF THE features of the new hospital building pointed out by Garrett were double corridors, central nurses stations, oxygen piped throughout the building, communication system, 24-hour cafeteria and coffee bar service, mobile meal service for patients and 4 completely air-conditioned major operating rooms.

Features of the maternity department will be a recovery room for newborn infants an a "Stork Club" for expectant fathers, according to Garrett.

Refreshments were served by the auxiliary hospitality committee at the close of the meeting.

Suspend, Revoke Area Licenses

Three Northwest suburban drivers' licenses were revoked and 9 others suspended by the state of Illinois, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier announced this week.

They were among 635 revocations and 905 driver license suspensions announced in Springfield. Most of the lifting of license privileges were for driving while intoxicated and 3 traffic law violations within 1 year.

The 3 who had their drivers licenses revoked were Sven W. Johnson, 3107 Hawk lane, Rolling Meadows; S. O. Thompson, 206 N. Wheeling, Prospect Heights; and Edward F. Stauber, 18 Busse ave. Mt. Prospect. Johnson's and Thompson's licenses were revoked for driving while intoxicated and Stauber's for 3 violations.

Five of the 9 who had their driver's licenses suspended had Palatine postal addresses. Four of the 5 lived outside the village.

Announce Soil Bank Wheat Acreage Reserve Program

The Soil Bank's 1958 Acreage Reserve Program, announced recently by Acting Secretary of Agriculture True D. Morse, will be available first for winter wheat, Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the Cook County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today.

Beginning August 26, farmers who wish to take part in the acreage reserve program by reducing their winter wheat acreage below the established farm acreage allotment will be able to sign 1958 program agreements at the County ASC office. Officials in the office are busy working out last minute details of procedure, prior to opening of the sign up period.

"A NUMBER of changes have been made in provisions of the 1958 Acreage Reserve program, based on the past 2 years' experience," Chairman Bormet stated. "Probably the most important of these changes is the establishment of a total crop acreage figure for each farm — to be called the 'Soil Bank base'—as a means of reducing the farm's acreage of harvested crops.

"In the agreement, farmers will agree to limit their harvest of so-called 'Soil Bank base' crops to the 'permitted acreage' in general, the number of acres in the Soil Bank base less the number of acres 'reserved.' This 'Soil Bank base' provision should help to check the shift of production from Acreage Reserve crops to other crops, which contribute to overall surpluses."

SINCE A SOIL Bank base must be established for each farm before an agreement may be signed, farmers are urged to bring along a record of their farm's crop history when they call at the County ASC office.

Some of the general provisions of the recently enacted 30-acre feed wheat exemption law were set forth today by Bormet of the Cook County ASC office. This legislation permits farmers to grow up to 30 acres of wheat without penalty provided all of it is used for feed, seed, or human consumption on the farm where it is produced. The new provision applies only to 1958 and future crops.

TO BE ELIGIBLE to grow 30 acres without penalty, producers must file an application with the county committee prior to seeding time on the farm or October 15, 1957, whichever is later. Although application blanks are not presently available, they are expected in the near future, Bormet said. Producers participating in the program will be required to file future reports on the use of the wheat so grown. An application may be canceled by the producer at any time, but in this event marketing quota program provisions will then apply to any wheat produced on the farm.

Under the feed wheat exemption provision no more than 30 acres of wheat may be grown on the farm. None of the crop may be sold, bartered, or exchanged. The entire crop of wheat must be used on the farm where it is produced. Any livestock or poultry fed must be owned by the producer and it will not be permissible to remove any wheat to another farm for any purpose.

NO MARKETING CARD will be issued for farms covered by the feed wheat exemption provision since none of the wheat from such farms may be sold. If the conditions on which the exemption is granted are violated, the exemption becomes null and void and the producer will be subject to penalties under wheat marketing quota acreage reserve agreements.

Any producer who signs up for the 1958 wheat acreage reserve program will not be eligible to use the 30 acre feed wheat provision unless he cancels his wheat acreage reserve agreement prior to the closing date for cancellation of wheat acreage reserve agreements.

PROGRAM PROVISIONS permitting producers to market 15 acres or less of wheat without penalty regardless of the size of the allotment will only apply to producers on farms which are not participating in the feed wheat exemption provisions.

Under the wheat program for 1958 farmers now have the following options:

1. Up to 30 acres may be grown on a farm provided all of the wheat produced is properly used on that farm. Written request must be filed with ASC office.
2. The allotment acreage (if any) may be grown on the farm with price support available on the wheat produced.
3. Part or all of the allotment may be placed in the 1958 Wheat Acreage Reserve, in which case the farmer can raise no more that the allotment minus the acreage placed in reserve.
4. If there is no allotment on the farm or it is small, up to 15 acres of wheat may be grown without penalty and placed on the market without price support. (Fm

I attended the Northern Illinois Experimental Field meet in DeKalb county September 11. The experimental fields are located throughout Illinois because of the demand of farmers for crops and soil research work in their local communities.

The land for this field was donated to the University of Illinois by the late Senator H. G. Wright.

The field is made up of two 80-acre tracts. Approximately 100 acres now are used for experimental work.

We looked over several of the experimental corn plots. There were many interesting facts observed.

The University is working on dwarf hybrid corn, which is showing some promise. There must be considerable research done on it before it will be released to seed growers for increase.

Some hybrids are more resistant to the European corn borer than others. The hybrids have reduced the damage to at least one-half. The corn borers probably do not like this, but we would be happy to eliminate them entirely.

Two interesting facts that I recorded were: We have always thought of the state of Iowa as the place where the tall corn grows. The average yield in Illinois is five bushels per acre more than Iowa. Second, many of you cannot remember the days of open pollinated corn, but those who can will be interested to know that the average yield today is 20 bushels per acre better than in the days of open pollinated corn.

Weed Control

Simozin gave the best full season control of weeds. They do not know as yet how much carryover there will be to the second year. It is good for corn but will kill soybeans.

Soybeans

Harosoy leads the soybeans in the 5-year average yield at the DeKalb field. Chippewa is a close second. It is also about 8 days earlier in maturity than Harosoy. It is high in oil content.

Hawkeye is the third best yielder, but it is still a few days later than Harosoy.

Blackhawk will be eliminated as a soybean variety in this area. It is on its way out now.

Breeding

Gerald Hurelbrink, my assistant, attended an open house meeting for farm advisers at the Northern Illinois Artificial Breeding association on the same day. Following are his comments on this program:

Have you had the chance of seeing new steps as well as refreshing your memory on the old techniques in artificial insemination? I had that opportunity and found many new techniques in use for the betterment of our dairy herds. The Northern Illinois Breeding Co-op at Hampshire played host to the farm advisers and assistants from the northern 40 counties in Illinois. On hand to show us around and explain everything to us was Professor Rhode and Jerry Cash, professor of dairy science from the University of Illinois.

The tour started out at the bull barn, where we looked at all of the bulls and each bull's accomplishments and record were discussed. We also witnessed the technique used in collecting semen from the bulls.

From the barn, we went into the offices and observed the processes of keeping records on all the cooperators. The association bred around 118,000 cows last year. From this figure, you can imagine how much bookkeeping is required. I.B.M. machines are used in this process.

The new technique of frozen semen was also discussed. After the semen is collected, it is extended and cooled to a temperature of between 110 and 115 degrees below Zero Farenheit. In this way, the sperm remain alive for long periods of time.

After lunch, we reconvened and had a very enlightening discussion period. Such things as new programs and plans for the future were discussed.

Any time you are out around Hampshire, make it a point to stop at the Bull Barn, and I am sure you will feel that it is time well spent.

For any further information on N.I.B.C.O., please feel free to contact me. (Fm

Dairy Cows Selling for $165 Each

Average selling price of milk cows on the U. S. farms was $165 a head in July. This was the highest price recorded in the past 4 years.

The value of a milk cow reflects her value as a producer of milk and her value for slaughter, says Leo R. Fryman, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Her value as a milk producer is determined by changes in cost-price relationships and how much milk she produces, Fryman says. Although milk prices have not changed much this year, lower prices for dairy feeds have resulted in the most favorable milk-feed price relationship since 1945, when special wartime payments were made to encourage a large output of milk. Production per cow will be the highest in 1957 of any year on record.

A cow's carcass value is influenced by the supply and demand for beef. Culled dairy animals have brought higher prices in recent months as beef production trends downward.

Large supplies of roughages and concentrates will be on hand this fall. With a favorable milk-feed price relationship and higher beef prices, the demand for good dairy cows will probably continue to be strong throughout the fall and winter. (Fm

To Keep Milk Prices Stable

by R. E. JACOBSON

The government support program will continue to lend stability to milk prices in the next few months.

Present support levels of $3.25 (83 per cent of parity) per hundred pounds for manufacturing milk of 3.95 per cent butterfat, and 58.6 cents (80 per cent of parity) per pound of butterfat will be in effect at least through April 1, 1958. In Illinois markets, however, blend prices to fluid milk producers may be somewhat lower than in the preceding 12 months because of the large surpluses in the market pools.

CONTINUED INCREASED milk production is responsible for these surpluses. In 1956 an all-time high of 125.7 billion pounds was produced in the United States.

However, the first half of 1957 showed a production gain of but one per cent over 1956, and most of this increase went to fluid milk outlets. The increased production is made possible by a record rate of milk output per cow. The 23 million milk cows in the nation, smallest number since 1929, are averaging over 6,000 pounds of milk annually (6,700 in Illinois), up 35 per cent from 1929. Favorable pasture condition and supplies of feed concentrates have contributed to the high rate this year. The milk-feed price ratio will continue favorable.

INCREASED MILK production is being taken care of largely by the increased population. The present United States population, in excess of 171 million people, is growing by 3 million a year. Changes in consumption trends of the individual dairy products are very slight. Per capita consumption of dairy products in 1956 was 699 pounds, of which 355 pounds was fluid milk and cream.

The gap between total milk production and total milk consumption government purchases of dairy products at the support levels. In 1956 over 5 billion pounds milk equivalent of butter, Cheddar cheese, and non-fat dry milk solids were taken over by the CCC. At the present time, government purchases are running slightly above last year.

THE TREND TOWARD fewer and larger dairy farms will continue. Dairymen must continue to decide whether to make the necessary expenditures for a full-scale dairy enterprise or get out completely.

Since January 1954, 3,700 producers in the Chicago market have answered this question by getting out. (Fm

Farmers Should Reserve Trees

Farmers wanting to plant forest trees on their farms can reserve seedlings and transplants now from the state nurseries, according to Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser. Farmers and other rural landowners may use these trees to begin a stand to grow forest crops, control soil erosion, develop wildlife cover or establish a field shelter belt for wind protection.

Conifers or evergreens available this year include bald cypress, red pine, Scotch pine, short leaf pine and white pine. The state nurseries also offer 9 broad-leaved or hardwood species, including ash, black locust, black walnut seed, cottonwood, Osage red oak, sycamore and tulip popular multiflora rose, a wildlife shrub, is also available.

Mees says that use of state nursery trees for shade, landscaping or farmstead windbreaks is forbidden. You can get trees for such purposes from commercial, privately owned nurseries. The two state nurseries are located in Union county near Jonesboro and in Mason country east of Havana.

Typical farm areas best adapted to forest planting include slopes too steep to cultivate or pasture profitably, severely eroded areas and soils too low in fertility to make fertilizing worth while, mees paints out. Forest crops you can expect range from Christmas trees and fence posts to poles and sawlogs. Foresters say that several classes of forest products are commonly grown in a single stand as it develops.

Prospective tree planters should send in their applications for nursery stock early to reserve the kinds of trees they want. Mees says application blanks and information on forest planting can be obtained from his office. (Fm

Peony Attention Time Is Here

Some of your peonies may need a little attention between September 1 and October 10.

According to C. E. Ackerman, University of Illinois floriculturist, peonies should be transplanted or reset occasionally, and this 6-week period is the best time.

Peonies need a prominent place in the sun, a fertile soil with good rainage and only 2 to 3 inches of soil over the crowns.

To reset, cut the leaves and stems to the ground. Then, with a spade or similar garden tool, carefully dig the roots to avoid injuring them. Remove the soil from the clump of fleshy roots. With a sharp knife, cut the roots into pieces containing 3 to 5 strong buds or eyes and a generous portion of fleshy root.

It's best to plant these roots in soil where peonies haven't been grown before. Use freshly prepared soil if possible. Peonies need plenty of nourishment, and they deplete the soil of many nutrients. Proper use of fertilizer helps to maintain a fertile soil for successful peony culture.

Dig a hole at least 2 feet in diameter and 2 feet deep for each root piece. Place a handful of bonemeal in the bottom of the hole. Then put in a soil mixture of one part peat and 5 to 6 parts fertile loam.

Set a peony root in the soil, leaving 2 or 3 inches of soil above the crown buds. Firm the soil around the root, and don't add water unless the soil mixture is very dry.

After the soil freezes, place a mulch of peat moss about one inch thick on the surface around the root to keep the soil frozen until spring. (Fm

Miss Carolyn Ruth Zoellick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zoellick of Roselle and Marvin G. Engelking, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Engelking, 201 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, were united in marriage in a double ring candlelight ceremony August 17 at 7 p.m. in St. John Lutheran church in Rodenberg. Rev. Edward Lazarz officiated.

The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and daisies. Organist was Mrs. Marvin Anderson and soloist was Mrs. Elva Lorenz.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a full-length embroidered nylon net gown with sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The full skirt was complimented with a scalloped over-skirt. The fingertip peau de soie veil was held in place by a lace cap embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. The bride's only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses, carnations and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Shirley Armand of Elgin, close friend of the bride. She wore a gown of white nylon over mint green taffeta with matching shoes and headpiece. Her cascade bouquet was of yellow and lavender carnations with ivy. Bridesmaids were Miss Sandra Zoellick of Elgin and Miss Barbara Jahnke of Arlington Heights, cousins of the bride. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor and carried similar bouquets of yellow carnations and ivy.

Artichoke hearts are combined with cream cheese, cottage cheese and seasonings. Formed into a mound, the cheese mixture is covered with grapefruit sections, topped with an anchovy-flavored french dressing and served with artichoke leaves.

The recipe may be used as an appetizer or a salad course. Either way it is a delicious and unique flavor treat.

Mrs. Henry is a member of the Northwest Community hospital auxiliary.

Sprinkle with paprika and serve with french dressing flavored with a little anchovy paste.

Film Distributor Speaks Thursday To AAUW

Mr. Edwards is vice-president in charge of distribution of Brittanica Films in the Chicago area. He is a graduate of Davidson college in North Carolina and in the past has served as general sales manager of CBS Television Sales. His topic, "Education Challenges —Are We Meeting or Side-Stepping Them?" will be focused on the challenges of international relations.

Miss Doris Ward of Park Ridge, president of the Northwest Suburban Branch, will open the first meeting of the season and Mrs. T. W. Spilman, Arlington Heights, will introduce the chairman of the various study groups and give a short resume of the work they will carry on this season.

At this meeting the membership will welcome new members who came to the "get acquainted" parties last week. This will be their first opportunity to see the branch in action.

AAUW Holds Book, Record Sale

"That long awaited day has come; the rush will be on," says Mrs. Lynn Alford of the American Association of University Women, as she and her committee complete plans for the book and record sale to be held at the North Western railroad station in Des Plaines Saturday.

The outdoor book shop will open at 9 a.m. and will stay in business until the supply runs out. According to Mrs. Alford, chairman, the experience of the last few years indicates that those who come early will find a good selection of almost new books which can be purchased at low prices. There will be children's books as well as those for adult reading.

An innovation this year is the inclusion of records in the sale. Mrs. Vern Brownell, Mt. Prospect, is one of the committee members and states that this does not mean old beaten up records.

This is a yearly fund-raising project of the Northwest Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

McArdles House Hunting

Dear Peg:

We have joined that sometimes frenzied, sometimes peaceful, sometimes shrewd, often not, but ever watchful tribe known as the North American House Hunters.

A strange, unpredictable group, they are likely to charge through a house, pointing out all the undesirable features to the owner, conclude that it would never do for the family and buy it the next day. Or, they may move slowly from room to room, sweetly agreeing with the owner that everything is the most and just what they've been looking for, then carefully noting the owner's phone number, they disappear and are never heard of again.

I suppose you'd say that, in a modified form, I belong to that branch of the tribe who find it difficult to embarrass the owner by pointing out the undesirable features of his house, which he has neglected to mention. Nor can I create an unpleasant atmosphere by suggesting that perhaps the price is a trifle high. So, I'm afraid I ecstatically "oh" and "ah" in every room and heartily agree that just a tiny bit of "freshening up" will give it our own personal touch (even though it needs a complete redecorating job from top to bottom). Promising to talk it over with my husband, I leave the seller joyfully waving "goodbye" from his sagging porch.

In a day or 2 comes the phone call and a happy voice asking when my husband would like to see the house. The answer is standard: "My husband feels that it's just not enough room for our family." This sounds untruthful when the house has 3 floors and 4 or 5 bedrooms, however, I feel it's kinder this way.

Nor do I act differently when I go through a house I feel would be right for us—just slightly giddier (due to the fact that I'm imagining us at all sorts of cozy family activities like—in front of the fireplace, around the dining room table, at the piano, etc.) Was I ever giddy yesterday!

What a perfectly charming home this lovely, old Victorian house would be. Situated on a quiet, shady street, it has just the right size front yard and a large, fenced-in back yard. Its high-ceilinged living room has a deep bay window (perfect for an old fashioned Christmas tree) and a wide fireplace. The dining room is big, bright and cheery and the kitchen has been modernized and has a built-in oven and a dish washer. There's a powder room downstairs and two bathrooms upstairs, plus four bedrooms. Can you imagine two walk-in closets in the master bedroom, one for you and one for "father"!

Although it needs no immediate work, I have mentally decorated, redecorated and arranged our furniture in the house a dozen times since yesterday, and Bob has yet to see it and to check such incidentals as plumbing, wiring, the roof, foundation, etc. Well, who knows. Oh yes, I forgot to tell you the main reason why we are so anxious to move from our wonderful, big, old apartment: "My husband feels that it's just not enough room for our family"—we'll soon be 6!

My love,
Patty.

'Autumn Sights' Planned To Benefit Handicapped

To have a child born, normal both physically and mentally, is one of the most blessed things that can happen to a family. Most parents are fortunate enough to have been so blessed but there are those who have not. It is with this minority of children which the seventh district Junior Womans club has concerned itself by staging its annual benefit dance "Autumn Sights" to raise funds for the Community School for Retarded Children and the Wheeling Braille school.

Youngsters who attend the Community School for Retarded Children in Rolling Meadows learn social manners, games, arts, speech and also some religious training. Some are incapable of learning in various degrees but many will, in all probability, be ready at sometime for classes in regular school. Others will go along at their own pace.

Wheeling Braille School is the only school for blind children in the northwest area. Before this school was started the children had to live in residence at Jacksonville, Ill., to be able to receive training in Braille. As it is best to begin training at a very early age, it is evident how necessary a school of this type is. By living in their own environments, blind children have the added advantage of growing up to be well-adjusted and happy adults, despite their handicap.

"Autumn Sights" benefit dance has been a means of helping to supply these 2 worthwhile establishments with furnishings and equipment. The dance will be held October 5 at Elmhurst Country club. Tickets are available from any seventh district club member.

Delta Zetas Plan Benefit Bridge

Mrs. Henry C. Korff, 1179 N. Beverly, Arlington Heights, is among committee members of Delta Zeta alumnae who are working on the club's annual benefit bridge and style show to be held at 1 p.m. September 25. The show will be held in Wilmette Womans club and will be sponsored by the north suburban chapter of Delta Zeta alumnae.

The party will benefit Camp Holiday Home in Lake Geneva, a summer camp for diabetic children in the Chicago area. A national philanthropy of Delta Zeta is Gallaudet college at Washington, D.C., the only school in the world that devotes its instructions and training wholly to young people who are deaf.

Commentator for the style show will be Mrs. Carl Hultman of Northbrook and Mrs. Allen L. Root of Deerfield will be among the models.

Community Fair to Offer Christmas Shopping Values

An opportunity to really "Do your Christmas shopping early" at actual bargain prices will be apporded patrons of the Community Fair, October 11 and 12.

The pre-Christmas country-fair event will feature both a Christmas booth and a toy booth.

SPONSORED BY the Northwest Community hospital women's auxiliary, funds raised during the 2-day sale will be used for the new hospital emergency room. The fair will be held in Recreation park fieldhouse, Arlington Heights.

Under the direction of 2 Barrington women, the Christmas booth will specialize in handmade as well as commercial items. Clever Santa Claus heads, hand crocheted, have been designed for door knobs. Lapel ornaments, tree decorations and place cards also will feature the Santa Claus theme.

BOOTH CHAIRMAN Mrs. Einar F. Larson has also arranged for unique Christmas table decorations. Holiday aprons are another feature of the booth. Weekly sewing sessions, with a variety of subjects, are being held by Mrs. Larson and her assistant chairman Mrs. Elden Simpson. The sewing sessions are attended by committee members and interested members of the auxiliary.

Since all items for the Christmas booth, as well as all booths at the Community fair, will be donated, bargain prices will be the rule.

THE TOY BOOTH will hold to a $2 maximum price limit Among items to be featured, according to Booth chairman Mrs. Carl A. Scharninghousen of Palatine, will be hand-sewn doll wardrobes and clothes as well as a variety of hand-made and commercial toys for both boys and girls. A 25-cent grab bag is expected to be a popular spot for children attending the fair.

Highlight of the toy booth will be stuffed dolls now being made by Mrs. Scharninghousen and her committee. The dolls, about 1 foot tall, will be priced at only $1.50. Assisting Mrs. Scharninghousen as vice-chairman is Mrs. Morris J. Mills Jr. of Arlington Heights.

BASED ON AN EARLY-American county-fair theme, the hospital auxiliary sale will feature booths selling plants, infants' wear, aprons, jewelry, "white elephant" items, food and art work. A "chicken coop" will be operated as a baby-sitting service to free parents for leisurely shopping.

A "country cupboard" serving "coffee and" has been planned to make shopping even more enjoyable. Outstanding radio and television personalities will appear to assist in the auction booth, with articles donated by celebrities heading the list of popular items.

FOOT SAVING EDUCATION

by J. H. Kotz

How can I be sure that my children's shoes fit when I buy them?

If you mean that you want to check the fit of the shoes yourself, you should first work in a shoestore for at least two years. Then you will be more uncertain than you are now.

If the shoe internship is impossible I would use the practice of most women when they buy a hairdo. They don't rush downtown at fifteen minutes before closing time and let the first operator they come to give their hair a fast sizzle. Hairdo's are too important.

Hairdos and the operators who do them are the subject of conversation at every hen party. A newcomer to town knows before she leaves the house not only which beauty parlor she is going to but which beautician will give her the kind of curl she wants. She will read ancient magazines waiting for the operator to take her and she might even overpay the bill if she is especially pleased with what the mirror says after the ordeal.

"Who fits your children's shoes?" should be as commonly asked as "Who does your hair?" Try it. You will find that your town has many shoefitters who realize the health importance of children's shoes and will do a really professional job if they know that you are not primarily interested in speed, low price or high style.

Faugh on Royalty Cries Housewife

by MARY

Every now and then I get rather cross at England. And, there are times when Liz and Phil sort of curdle me too. This is one of those times.

I guess I am just not very royalty-minded. The American Revolution popping out in me, no doubt. All this folderol of the 2 of them coming to visit little old us leaves me colder than a mackerel. I am sort of ashamed of all those social butterflies who are straining to get invitations to garden parties and such.

WHAT IS SO rare as a day in October floating around the White House garden balancing a dish of tea and a little sandwich while nodding in a friendly manner at Lizzie Well, in my humble opinion having a ham sandwich and a coke on the neighbors back patio would be a heck of a lot more fun.

The thing that gets me is, what is it that Lizzie does to earn her tea and crumpets. Well, she goes to the horse races. I haven't a kick in the world about her going but it hardly seems to qualify her for the high salary that she struggles along on. Then she reviews the girl guides which seems to be an English version of the girl scouts.

FOR A COUPLE of million smackers a year, I would not only walk up and down looking at them, I would give each and every grubby little girl guide a piggy back ride in the process.

Don't get the idea that this is all she does. Nosiree. She spends quite a good deal of time telling Maggie, her younger sister, whom to marry and whom not to marry. Mostly whom not. She also smacks Phil down gently when he gets the idea that someone who governs should do a little governing.

THIS SEEMS to annoy just about everyone so Phil gets to take a nice trip, say to inner Tanganyika, where communications are a little rugged. By the time he has smashed his way through a jungle of 2, he is more than willing to keep his lip buttoned for a while just to keep peace in the family.

Phil has been a good kid for quite a while now so I guess he is going to get to come along. It will look better too. In a way, I am rather sorry I tore up my invitation to meet them. I would like to ask Phil how things are in inner T. I'm fussy about where I send Father.

'Golden Ball' Set For November 8th

Plans for their annual fall dance, "The Golden Ball," were presented September 12 to members of the Mothers Club of St. James Women's guild, Arlington Heights, by Mrs. William Hessler, ways and means chairman. The ball is scheduled for November 8 and will be held at Chevy Chase.

The group also discussed its "Carnival of Fun" to be held October 5 and 6 in the school hall. Mrs. Roy King is ways and means chairman of the guild.

Two hundred women attended this first fall meeting of the club and heard Rev. George J. Stier speak on the education of children. A social evening followed with refreshments served by members of the board.

Fashions Keyed For Suburbanites At Local Show

Plans have been completed for the luncheon fashion show at Inverness country club September 26, at 12:30 p.m., sponsored by Mt. Prospect Center of Infant Welfare, according to Mrs. William Hunter, project chairman of the event.

Carson Pirie Scott and Co. will present the fashions and models. Mrs. Herbert Herrmann, fashion director of Carson's and a member of the Mt. Prospect center will narrate the show. Styles to be presented will be keyed to suburban living with emphasis on Ann Fogarty fashions.

Mrs. Hunter has announced a matching pendleton skirt and jacket will be given away at the show, plus numerous other items. The event promises to be a success, as all available tickets have been sold. Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be used for the care of needy infants in the Chicago area.

The Mt. Prospect group, one of 43 centers of Infant Welfare, was founded 2 years ago. Mrs. Edward Schoeneberger is president of the center.

Mark Creviston Takes Bride August 24th

Delavan Methodist church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Nancy Ann Tomm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Tomm of Delavan, Ill. and Mark S. Creviston Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark S. Creviston of Arlington Heights.

Rev. Lloyd Barnard and Dr. Eugene Stauffer performed the double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. August 24. Preceding the ceremony, Fuhrur Dicky, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Allen, organist, sang "All For You" and "Wedding Prayer."

The aisle was lined on either side with bouquets of white gladioli and mums tied with huge rosettes of white satin ribbon. The altar was a bower of dark green Kentia palms, tall cathedral vases of green huckleberry, large white gladioli and chrysanthemums. On either side of the altar were spiraled, pyramid candelabra holding lighted tapers.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of imported French lace and Skinner satin over slipper satin, styled with fitted lace bodice, scalloped portrait neckline embroidered with pearls and iridescents and traditional long sleeves. The bouffant skirt was gathered at the sides and into the back where a satin panel, inserted with a deep band of scalloped lace, formed a chapel train. From her tudor cap of lace with crown of pearls fell a fingertip veil of imported pure silk illusion.

Mrs. Charles Tomm of Delavan, matron of honor, wore a teal blue faille gown with scooped neckline and flared skirt with gathered back panel accented with a small bow. She wore a matching beaded halos and veils. cular veil.

Bridesmaids were Betsy Creviston, Arlington Heights, Mollie Marvel, Urbana; Janann Duffy, Champaign; and Sue Keagle of Rock Island. They wore aqua gowns fashioned identically to that of the matron of honor, with matching beaded halosand veils. All attendants carried natural-colored baskets filled with large gold chrysanthemums, tiny gold and aqua pompons and fern and tied with golden yellow tulle.

Flower girl was Sandra Tomm, 3, niece of the bride. She wore a white embroidered organdy dress and bonnet with sash and bonnet ties of teal faille. She carried a small basket of mums to match those of the attendants.

Best man was James Whitelaw of Arlington Heights and ushers were Robert Hagemeyer, Peoria; Dave O'Bryant, Oak Lawn; Robert Creviston, Arlington Heights; and Warren Gedstad, Sioux Falls, S. D.

The bride's mother wore rose-mocha chiffon with candy pink accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a silver blue, brocade embroidered sheath with navy picture hat and accessories. Both chose pink delight roses for their shoulder corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 250 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

After a honeymoon in northern Minnesota, Mr. and Mrs. Creviston will be at home September 9 at 704 W. Nevada, Urbana. Mrs. Creviston was graduated in June from the University of Illinois and is employed in the student counseling bureau at the university. Mr. Creviston will graduate from the university in February.

New Dance Club Formed; Includes Instructions

A new dancing club, the Continental, has been formed during the past summer season. Soon after the first few interested persons discussed the idea, an organizing committee was chosen and in a short time the charter membership of 100 couples was filled plus a waiting list of others wishing to join the club. Most members of the club come from the northwest area suburbs of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, and Park Ridge.

The club will have 4 dancing parties during the year, the first to be Saturday, Oct. 19, at 9 p.m. in the VFW hall in Arlington Heights. Additional dance dates will be December 7, March 8 and May 3. All dances this year will be at the VFW hall.

Couples in the club, in order to meet at least once a month during the year and to become well-acquainted, will be meeting at the VFW Hall in 2 groups for instruction in the current popular dances. Instruction will be under the direction of Mrs. Muriel Mills, local dance teacher, and Peter Lund, who taught at the Arthur Murray Studios in Chicago.

Thursday evening groups will meet at 8 on September 26, November 14, January 23, February 13 and April 24.

Sunday evening group had its firs tinstruction class September 8, another September 15, and will meet again November 17, January 19, February 16 and April 20.

Officers of the club for the 1957-1958 season are president, Mrs. Fredric G. Suhr; vice president in charge of membership, Mrs. Gordon Wells; secretary, Mrs. Gaylord Watland; treasurer, Mrs. Floyd Tremberth. Chairmen of committees are dance, Mrs. George Traner; publicity and yearbook, Mrs. J. Kemp Blackwell; judiciary, Mrs. Robert Skamfer; nominating, Mrs. William Keil; and hospitality, Mrs. David Brooke.

Clothiers Think Child Is Genius?

Clothing manufacturers seem to think our children are geniuses.

"Much of today's children's clothing is very difficult for the child to manage," says Miss Ida M. Didier, associate home economics professor at Illinois Institute of Technology.

REFERRING TO A recent survey made by a graduate student at the Institute, Miss Didier explained that it is vital for preschool children to add to their education by learning how to dress themselves.

"And today's manufacturers, with a few exceptions, seem to expect children to manipulate belts and bows that would give an adult some trouble," she added.

THE REPORT on self-help garments in pre-school children's clothes was prepared by Mrs. Vimladivic C. Kenkeremath. She defined self-help garments as those that have:

—Openings within the child's reach.

—Buttons of a manageable size for young children.

—Fewer buttons to avoid confusion.

—Well-defined differences between the front and back of the garment.

INFORMATION gathered from various shops in the Chicago area showed that it was "unusual" for self-help garments to be featured. Those that were shown incorporated such features as large buttons easily reached by the child, gripper openings down the in-seam of the pants, and zipper openings in coveralls.

Elastic waist bands in underpants are a very good self-help feature, according to Mrs. Kenkeremath. Plastic balls on the end of drawstrings in T-shirts are commendable because they make the strings easily definable to toddlers.

THE SHOPPING survey criticized back openings in garments, small buttons, heavy zipper openings on weatherproof jackets, bows and belts that tie in back, and complicated belt fastenings.

A very unusual feature is a toddler's dress with the opening completely down the back, says Mrs. Kenkeremath. She terms it "neither convenient nor very attractive."

Shish Kebab Is Fine Guest Fare

Charcoal broiling and the skewered dish of the Near East—Shish kebab—are a perfect team for informal entertaining. With just a bit of before-hand preparation you can invite your guests to skewer-their-own—fun for them and less work for you!

Shish Kebab for 4 to 6

Use shoulder or leg of lamb cut into 1½ or 2-inch cubes. For 2 pounds of solid meat, place in a large bowl one medium-sliced onion, a few bay leaves, ½ teaspoon pepper and 2 teaspoons salt. Add lamb. Blend 1 cup of dry red wine (lemon juice may be used instead of wine) and ½ cup olive oil; pour over meat mixture. Soak the lamb cubes in this thin seasoned sauce for several hours to give the meat a distinctive flavor and prevent dryness.

Now you're ready for the skewers. Alternate marinated lamb with bay leaves, using about 4 to 5 meat cubes for each metal skewer. (If you don't have metal skewers, try green twigs.) Broil about ten minutes, or until browned, turning only once. The bay leaves will begin to glow near the edges imparting a savory, penetrating flavor to the meat.

Drastic Price Reduction
This farm is listed with us at $50,000, and we think it is well worth every cent of it, but the owner has bought a dairy ranch in Florida and must sell immediately and we feel that we can get him to accept an offer of $45,000, including a new bulk milk cooler.
194 ACRES ON MAIN ROAD NEAR ELKHORN. Two homes (one good, one just fair). Excellent equipped dairy barn, 3 silos. Phone us for an appointment to see this bargain of the year.

Two Of The Very Best 80 Acres In Walworth County

A. NEAR ELKHORN (11 miles north of state line). 77 Acres workland (rest could be). All good rich level land, mostly deep Carrington Silt loam soil. Good 18 stanchion GRADE A dairy, center drive dairy barn, milk house, 2 silos, large machine shed, granary and cribs, chicken house, good older house with new oil burning furnace, running water and bathroom. Price $28,000.

B. NEAR SHARON (1½ miles north of state line). All workland, all rich deep Miami brown silt loam soil—almost all level. 24 stanchion GRADE A dairy barn, silo, good large machine shed, fair hen house, 1 good milk house, granary and cribs, good square type two story home with furnace heat and bathroom. Price $28,500. Believe owner will carry financing with $8,000 to $10,000 down.

These farms, as far as farms in the area, are high priced, but they are QUALITY PLUS. Fact is, I think while perhaps you can buy a farm with as good soil as these, I truly question if you can buy one with much better (if any better) soil—anywhere—regardless of price. These farms are good enough to give a man a good living from just farming, but are so located where industrial off the farm work can be secured, if the owner should so wish.

COME SEE THESE.

Belgium Has No Driver's Licenses, Less Accidents

by BILL DILLINGHAM

There are still a few places left in the world where a person may drive a car without a license. Belgium is one of them.

The Belgians take the attitude that a driver's license is an imposition on personal rights, that it does not reduce accidents and that it is a waste of the public's money when involving driving tests.

ANY RESIDENT of this Benelux country may, when he reaches the age of 18, step into a car and drive it on the State highways. No policeman would question his competency or ask for papers.

Surprisingly enough, Belgium has fewer accidents than most other countries, considering its population, number of cars and density of traffic on its roads.

Belgium is one of Europe's richest countries, determined by the living standard of the people. New American cars crowd its cities and speed along its highways. At present there are about 12 people for each automobile. This places Belgium near the top on the world's list in car ownership.

WHY IS IT, then, that with such loose motor vehicle control, Belgians have proportionately less accidents?

The answer that most Belgians will give is an answer that completely smashes all foreign concepts of road safety. Surprisingly, it is this:

When a man has a license it makes him more liable to accidents. It has the psychological affect of making a person over-estimate his own ability. Armed with a license, one assumes that one is always in the right when on the right-hand side of the road.

Without a license —or without a certificate of the State saying one knows what one is doing at all times in a vehicle —the driver is more cautious. He doubts himself more, thus exercising more care.

THE REALLY bad smash-ups, say Belgian motor vehicle authorities, are had by those who are highly skilled in driving and who could pass any test with flying colors.

A driver's license, people assert, not only fails to serve its intended purpose, but works against road safety.

Those without confidence in themselves are most careful. Perhaps they account for more dented fenders, but not for highway deaths.

A final point which authorities in this Benelux country maintain is that having confidence in others — which licenses help to establish — —leads people into accidents every day.

SURVIVORS OF ROAD crashes invariably say of the other party: "I never expected him to do such-and-such." Doing away with licenses would force a motorist to regard his neighbor with more suspicion, be not surprised at his failings, be more prepared and watchful for them, and by consequence be forced to use his car with more moderation.

This is the Belgian point of view. Reasonable or not, it certainly gives rise to thought. (B12

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

by PAUL H. LITTLE

Thie week, we've a big stack of jazz'n "pops" from Victor, so let's stack them on the "Magic Wand" spindle, warm up the amplifier and hear what comes out of our portable.

First off, the Vik 12-inch platter (LX-1100) which brings us Lecuona's "Afro-Cuban Suite" with makes an ideal summer listening treat. This noted Cuban composer is best known for "The Breze and I" (originally entitled, "Andalucia").

In this two-side suite, he has utilized full orchestra with 28 strings, a combination of rhythm and wind instruments headed by eight trumpets, and then a smaller rhythm-wind instrumental group. Sections include "Jungle Drums," "Danza Lucumi," "Dust on the Moon," "Blue Caribbean," Noro Morales and his orchestra "Danza Negra" and "Conga de media noche," uniting all these parts into an exciting, beautifully colorful whole. Real hi-fi and lush listening! Morales' own piano playing is alone worth the cost of the lp.

TAKING THE classics and stylizing them in a swiftly-paced, modern rhythm manner is the achievement of Neal Hefti and his orchestra on Vik LX-1092, "Concert Miniatures," a combo stressing horn and reed sections and topped off by men like bassist Milt Hinton, guitarist, Tony Mottola, drummer Bobby Rosengarden, Toots Mondello doing one of his best sax jobs, and Urbie Green's magnificently hard hitting trombone.

Hefti's arrangements are in very good taste, but the important thing is that his modernized, syncopated versions will win a host of enthusiasts for classical music into the bargain. Numbers include "Rhapsody in Blue," "Dagger Dance," "On the Trail," "Song of India," Alex Templeton's whimsical "Bach Goes to Town," and two Tschaikowsky classics, "Andante Cantabile" and "Waltz of the Flowers." You'll like this one!

RUSS CASE and his orchestra in "Dances Wild" (Vik LX1085) have had a somewhat similar and very praiseworthy idea of using famous classical dances in a streamlined, appealing version. Combo here has the indefatigable Hinton on bass, Cozy Cole on drums, Mundell Lowe on guitar, and such instumentalists as Barry Galbraith and George Barnes.

Numbers are Sabre Dance," Raymond Scott's piquant "War Dance for Wooden Indians," "Ritual Fire Dance," Lecuona's "Danza Lucumi" (compare Case's up-beat styling with the composer's on "Jungle Drums," "Doll Dance," "Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy," "Kerry Dance" and Gliere's "Sailor's Dance." Russ' arrangements bring out woodwinds with 4 sets of tympani, guitar, piano, bass and drums. Very effective and very hi-fiish—if we may coin a word! (B12
